Snow Blankets Buildings Where Hot Session Looms

The last session of the Alberta legislature gives promise of being the most important and bitter in the history of the province, and also act as a criterion of the public opinion, politically, of western Canada prior to the federal elections. Above layout shows the beautiful parliament buildings under blanket of snow at Edmonton. Left, Lieutenant-Governor W. L. Walsh; right, Premier R. G. Reid.

BRUNO DEFENCE RESTS KIDNAP-MURDER CASE

MacMillan's Appeal Built On Principle Of Girl Protection

Now that the full effect of the Court of Appeal decision in the MacMillan-Brownlee seduction suit has been recognized by thoughtful people throughout the province, response is being felt to the appeal for further funds to carry the decision to a higher court. There is ground for the belief that a higher court will reverse the 3-2 decision of the Alberta Appeal Court.

It is so foreign to commonly accepted standards of morality to hold with the majority of the Alberta appeal judges that no injury is inflicted upon a young girl by a male seducer so long as he makes use of contraceptives in carrying out his purpose, that it seems incredible that any appellate body outside of the province would sustain that interpretation of Section 5 of the Seduction Act of the province.

Owing to the financial inability of the plaintiffs—now saddled with the defendants costs—to carry the appeal further, and owing to effect this decision may have on other parents and on other victims of male seducers, an appeal for further funds is necessary. If you disagree with the finding that no injury is inflicted upon any girl in Alberta so long as her seducer uses a contraceptive, send in your donation, however small, to aid the Seduction Appeal Fund.

DEBATES ARE IRKSOME TO C.C.F. LEADER

Woodsworth Urges Govt. Action on Bennett Reform Program

OTTAWA, Feb. 8—A protest against futile, political debates while the country demanded active reforms was made in the house of commons last night by J. S. Woodsworth. While Liberals and Conservatives argued back and forth on the Ottawa trade treaties, the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation leader accused them of beating old straw, of wasting time and money.

"The temper of the Canadian people will not stand too much of what we have seen today," agreed the only woman in the house, Agnes MacPhail, Prog., South-East Grey. But they were lone voices in the house. The debate went on until the 11 o'clock adjournment hour while Felix Quinn, Cons., Halifax, accused the C.C.F. leader of delaying progress himself by placing on the order paper a resolution favorable to a Cooperative Commonwealth, as proposed by his party.

All day long Conservatives and Liberals debated merits and demerits of the trade treaties negotiated three years ago at the Ottawa Imperial conference.

MONARCHS YET STAY UNBEATEN

BERNE, Switzerland, Feb. 8.—The Winnipeg Monarchs will leave for London in the next few days, it was confirmed today, for a game there at the end of this month, and will sail for Canada on March 14 after a long European tour in which they have yet to meet defeat.

The Monarchs defeated the Davos hockey club here by 2-0 last evening. Yellowlees and Tony Lemay doing the scoring.

AUTO SLAYER BOASTS DEAD

NEVADA CITY, Cal. Feb. 8.—Clarence Frechette, who admittedly killed a man in Michigan and carried the body to California by motor car, insisted today he was not worry for what he had done as he awaited the arrival of authorities from the eastern state.

"I'd have done it again," said the 25-year-old "flying bandit," as he told of the fight that led to the death of Robert Brown, 24, of Kalamazoo, and if I hadn't, somebody else would have."

Frechette, who told Capt. Joseph Blake of the state highway patrol, Brown had boasted of intimacies with many women, including the accused slayer's "girl," apparently suffered no nervousness at any time after the shooting.

BANK BANDITS LOOT $15,000

NYACK, N.Y., Feb. 8.—A group of armed bandits today held up the Sparkhill National Bank and escaped with $15,000 in cash, bank officers reported to state police.

$100 MINIMUM CIVIL SERVICE WAGE IS URGE

Government Asked to Set Standard by National Association

By THOS. WAYLING.
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Feb. 8.—A minimum wage of $100 in the Civil Service of Canada for adult male employees, restoration of full pay including provisional and statutory increases, the establishment of civic service councils and certain amendments to the superannuation were asked of the government yesterday afternoon by the national executive of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada, who waited on Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of finance.

In 1929 the number of adult male employees getting under $100 was 3,779 but with the salary cuts that number has been greatly increased. The civil servants also asked for permanent status for all employees in permanent positions, some employees being kept on the temporary list for years. They also wanted full political rights including the privilege of running for office. A number of employees have had to retire from municipal and other offices.

It was claimed that the civil servants by their salary reductions had contributed $23,400,000 to the federal treasury. They also asked for optional retirement after 35 years service and retirement at 60 years of age. The present government policy of not filling vacancies they declared was "bedevilling the service."

The delegation included Harold Baker, Vancouver, president; Fred Knowles, national secretary; Fred McGrath, New Westminster; J. S. Spiller, Calgary; Georges Lavers, Regina; G. J. Goodin, Winnipeg; A. H. Helm, Kitchener, and E. Rouleau, Coteau Landing.

MALARIA HITS HOSPITAL AIDES

KURUNEGALA, Ceylon, Feb. 8—The malaria plague which has cost about 30,000 lives in the last three months underlined the entire staff of this town's only hospital today.

Every doctor and nurse, all weakened by their day and night fight to aid others, had contracted malaria. None was able to stay on duty longer. Volunteers tried their best to take care of them.

Reports from Kegalla said efforts were being made to build four temporary hospitals there to accommodate the overflow of patients from the regular hospital. Every inch of available space in the Kegalla cemetery has been filled with fresh graves.

MERCY PILOT SCORNS BAD CONDITIONS

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Feb. 8.—Pilot Kenneth Neese took off yesterday in the face of adverse weather reports on a 1,000-mile round-trip to bring Charles Cown of Takotna to a hospital here. Cown was reported seriously ill in a wireless request for assistance. Neese started despite reports of rain and poor visibility.

WAR FLOUTED IN JAP DIET

TOKYO, Feb. 8.—The possibility of war with the Soviet was flaunted before a House of Representatives committee today in an attempt to whip the members into line in support of the biggest army appropriation in Japanese history.

General Senjury Hayashi, Minister of War, told the committee Soviet military activities in the far east compel Japan to arm "regardless of financial considerations."

LIBERALS ASK REFUNDING OF ALBERTA DEBT

Bringing to the forefront of legislative business the stern necessity for a refunding of the provincial debt, now amounting to approximately $144,000,000; lower interest rates for government financing of all kinds; the necessity of an investigation into the cost of production, refining and distribution of gasoline, fuel oils and lubricating oils; a government probe into the cost of manufacture and distribution of farm machinery, dairy equipment and machine repair parts, W. R. Howson, K.C., Liberal leader in Alberta, and his followers in the legislature have already set the pace for the present session by placing on the order papers motions dealing with all these matters which will necessitate them being brought before the House at an early date.

In addition Mr. Howson and his followers have brought down motions setting forth the necessity of an aggressive policy of local and market roads construction and maintenance; the adoption of a more vigorous policy of noxious weeds prevention and eradication and a review of The Workmen's Compensation Act to provide for an independent board of review where cases of dissatisfaction have arisen to ensure that every injured workmen shall receive his just awards under the act.

W. Harry Ross, member for Calgary, is urging the refunding of the entire provincial debt of about $144,000,000 and that the present holders of these bonds be offered the bonds of a corporation to be formed to handle provincial financing.

He would have the corporation provide financial assistance to not only the province, but to municipalities as well.

PRIMARY PURPOSE

Mr. Ross urges that the primary purpose of such financial assistance should be to refund the present debts at a lower rate of interest;

Bank Roll Stolen From Hollow Leg

HARBIN, Manchuria, Feb. 8 —A Russian woman residing here, Madam Koltzoff, is suing two other Russians, charging they appropriated $3,000, which her dead husband kept hidden in a hollow of his wooden leg.

Koltzoff and two friends, named Truchan and Bereshnak, made a trip into the forests eastward from Harbin, to buy firewood for the Harbin market. A week later the two friends returned, and informed Madame Koltzoff that her husband had died, and had been buried at the village of Hengtahotze.

The widow obtained official permission, and exhumed the body of her dead husband, thinking she would find the $3,000 in the wooden leg. But the money had disappeared, and now she charged the cash was stolen from the secret hiding place after he died.

PEAR TREE BURSTS INTO FULL BLOOM

In the middle of winter it burst into full bloom. Then the zero weather blackened the blossoms Mrs. Shank believes the pear crop this season will be scanty.

Game Hunter Dies

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. — Herbert Weld, scholar, explorer and big game hunter, is dead in London, says a special dispatch to the New York Times today. He was 83.

Wood Grain Baffling To Trio Experts

It is to Junior Liscom C. Case, above, that the technical testimony about wood has been addressed. A carpenter, he is expected to interpret the testimony for the jurors. The question is does the grain of the two sided pieces of wood, pictured above, end to end, exactly match? Arthur Koehler, government wood expert, testified that in his opinion they matched, that they had been cut from the same board. The piece at left is a rail of the Lindbergh kidnap ladder; that at right is said to have been taken from the Bronx, N.Y., home of Bruno Hauptmann, where evidence was found that a piece had been sawed off the attic flooring.

STATE STARTS ON REBUTTAL: END IS IN SIGHT

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Feb. 8.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann today rested his defence against the charges that would send him to the electric chair for the kidnapping and murder of Baby Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. The defence case ended at 12:10 p.m., after sensational testimony designed to place the Lindbergh kidnap ladder in the possession of a man other than Hauptmann 20 hours before the crime. The defence also used two practical lumbermen to dispute the testimony of a state wood expert that part of the kidnap ladder came from Hauptmann's Bronx attic. One of these was the last defence witness. Edward J. Reilly, chief defence counsel, waited for the polling of the jury after a brief recess, then announced loudly:

"The defence rests!"

The state immediately began rebuttal with Joseph J. Farber, a New York insurance man, on the stand. His testimony was sought to refute that of a defence witness who said he saw the dead leader Finch leap over a Bronx cemetery wall where and when the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom was paid.

The defence used, in all, 33 witnesses, many of them alibi witnesses, and required 11 court days to give its answer to the state's charges.

The defence case, in brief, was:

Hauptmann was in a Bronx bakery, more than 20 miles from the scene of the crime, when baby Lindbergh was stolen; the dead German fugitive, Isador Fisch, and not Hauptmann, got the $50,000 ransom money; Hauptmann innocently took $14,000 of ransom money from Fisch for safekeeping; a man resembling Fisch and a woman resembling the dead maid, Violet Sharpe, were seen with a baby shortly after the kidnapping; none of KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8.—Jess Doyle, Bremer kidnapping suspect, was captured Thursday, capping a roundup which netted five others as well—because of a feminine feud and muddy roads, the watchword "find the woman" for the bullet-punctured Doyle man, ended when Doyle trailed the 34-year-old gangster's flight near Pilsburg, Kas.

In the arrests, including four women, Detective Chief T. J. Higgins of Kansas City saw the smashing of a heavily-organized bootlegging and bank robbery mob.

M'CUSKER TO JOIN ESKIMOS

SEATTLE, Feb. 8.—"Red" McCusker will be in the nets tonight when the Edmonton Eskimos of the Northwestern Hockey League invade the Seattle Hawks at Sicks' Stadium.

After his Esks had dropped a 4-3 decision to the Buckaroos at Portland last night, Manager Art Gagne decided that Herb Rheaume wasn't quite filling the bill for a club battling its way to a spot in the Northwestern Hockey League championship play-offs, so he obtained permission by telephone from Hugh Caldwell, Seattle owner, to use McCusker.

McCusker helped the Calgary Tigers to the league championship last season and was with Portland this winter until Bobby Rowe brought Andy Aitkenhead on from the New York Rangers.

Clarke Sees Attempt To Scuttle Calgary Confab

MAYOR AVERS SINKING FUND BOARD ERRED

Classing the action of the Edmonton Sinking Fund Board in sending a communication to the Vancouver city council asking that body to take over $251,000 of Vancouver bonds held by Edmonton in view of the coast city's determination to seek lower interest rates, as a "deliberate attempt to scuttle the work of the Calgary conference," Mayor J. A. Clarke this morning sent a letter to City Treasurer Barnhouse, who is also secretary of the Sinking Fund Board, asking for a full explanation.

Although he is an ex-officio member of the board, Mayor Clarke was not at the meeting, and pointed out today that G. R. F. Kirkpatrick, the financial member of the board and manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada in Edmonton, was away in Honolulu.

"I want to find out all about this," said Mayor Clarke. "It looks to me to be a deliberate effort to slap down McGeer's attempts to get interest rates reduced and in my opinion the two members of the Sinking Fund Board responsible allowed themselves to be used as catspaws to drag the bondholders' chestnuts out of the fire."

In this connection Mayor Clarke pointed out that the bond houses were well represented by lobbyists at the Calgary conference of western mayors, and that undoubtedly

Speaking Of Birth Rate, Here Are Four Marks For World To Shoot At

LONDON, Feb. 8.—When five children were born at Corbeil, Ontario, recently, they were said to be the world's only quintuplets and were kept in special incubators and washed with oil.

The parents, a French-Canadian farmer and his twenty-five-year-old wife, did not, however, achieve a record in families.

A Tuscan peasant girl—herself a twin daughter of a mother who had given birth to triplets—presented her husband with six sons, and in the following year gave birth to five more.

After this, she had two sets of triplets and then four at a birth. Others believed, and altogether the woman gave birth to sixty-two children—believed to be a record.

The wife of a Scottish weaver is reputed to have had about sixty children, of whom forty-six boys and four girls survived and grew to be men and women.

A Russian peasant named Wasilief, had eighty-seven children in the eighteenth century. His first wife gave birth to four sets of quintuplets, seven of triplets and sixteen of twins.

His second wife, who survived him, had two sets of triplets and six sets of twins.

HINDRANCE IN M'GEER'S PLAN IS OPEN CLAIM

they are interested in holding back the threatened cut in interest rates.

"What I cannot get through my head is why, instead of backing McGeer, who has the nerve to try what apparently our own people are afraid to tackle, they take the means of hindering him. If he can get bond interest rates down 2 per cent. we get the same thing, with a consequent relief to the ratepayers. I take it that is what we are elected to do; get the mill rate down, but this is just another way of keeping it up and I want to find out about it," he said.

Ald. J. W. Fry, chairman of the finance committee and on the Sinking Fund Board, was present at the meeting where the letter to Vancouver was drafted.

"Ald. Fry was also a delegate to the conference and, in fact, was chairman of the taxation committee of the conference. The resolutions put forward at Calgary went much

Sea Spews Up Dead Monster At Newport

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif., Feb. 8.—King Neptune, with one mighty heave, sent sprawling upon the sands here yesterday the gigantic skeleton of the mystery of last summer's "sea serpent" scare. It was the carcass of a sea elephant of huge proportions.

Part of the monster, which weighs perhaps a ton and a half and was 18 feet in length, had been destroyed. The snout had been torn away, indicating it probably met death in a submarine feud.

MEISNER AIDE CRIES FRAUD

OTTAWA, Feb. 8.—The Ottawa Journal today publishes an interview with C. W. Bell, M.P., of Hamilton, who acted as chief defence counsel in the Labatt kidnapping trial at London, in which he says the two defence witnesses Seiter and Hall, of Covington, Ky., tried to "shake-down" the defence lawyers. Failing this they "ratted and got out."

STATE HEALTH SCHEME GAINS MUCH SUPPORT

Dr. Helen MacMurchy, C.B.E., M.D., to Address Local Women

On a trans-Canada tour during which she will address Women's Canadian Clubs throughout the Dominion, Dr. Helen MacMurchy, C.B.E., M.D., noted Canadian doctor and former head of the Child and Family Welfare Division of Canada, arrived in Edmonton this morning.

Dr. MacMurchy, a native of Toronto, commenced her distinguished career as a teacher in the Toronto Collegiate Institute until 1900, later her registration of her public work obtaining the degree of M.D. (Honoris causa).

CALLED TO OTTAWA

In 1919 Dr. MacMurchy was appointed to the Ontario Public Service and in 1920 was called to Ottawa to join the Division of Child Welfare newly established by the Dominion government.

In speaking of Alberta matters Dr. MacMurchy stated that the Alberta Sterilization Act was one of the best of its kind in Canada. The need for such an Act had long been recognized and it was generally felt that to the present date the administration of this act had been very careful and beneficial, she said.

"State medicine is becoming actually far more rapidly than is realized," said Dr. MacMurchy. "Plans prepared by the Canadian Medical Association along these lines have proved excellent."

APPROACH CAREFULLY

In speaking of probable opposition to the scheme, Dr. MacMurchy stated that this was a matter which should be approached with the utmost carefulness and that although mistakes might be made at the outset, it was generally felt that it was better to begin in the way in which it would be possible to continue.

Health units in Quebec, said Dr. MacMurchy, had made great progress. These units, she said, had been financed partly by the provincial government, county districts, and by contributions from the Rockefeller Foundation.

"It is by no means too soon for a housing scheme to be put in operation in Canada," said Dr. MacMurchy. "It is to be hoped that activities in this respect will be in operation in a short time."

CAREER FOR WOMEN

Speaking of a medical career for woman, Dr. MacMurchy stated that she had been pleased and impressed by progress made by women as doctors in the west and believed that steady advances would continue in the future. The splendid work done by Dr. Margaret Owen in the Peace River district was mentioned by Dr. MacMurchy, who stated that the record of this doctor would testify to the work which women were able to do in this respect.

Dr. MacMurchy, who was made Commander of the Order of the British Empire (C.B.E.) in the New Year Honors list of 1934, will address the Edmonton Branch of the Women's Canadian Club on the subject of "Mental Hygiene" as a topic to be held in the Macdonald hotel this afternoon.

While Protesting British, American Fortifications Nippon Goes Ahead With Own Plans.

TOKYO, Feb. 8.—Japan's navy wants Great Britain and the United States to do away with the heavily fortified naval bases close to her shores, at the same time she herself fortifies islands in those waters.

That, in effect, was the navy's viewpoint as outlined yesterday by the adjutant to Admiral Mineo Osumi, minister of the navy.

He was explaining Osumi's statement that it was questionable whether article 19 of the Washington treaty should remain in force "without revision." In that article are contained the provisions relating to fortifications in the Pacific.

After explaining the navy believes the status of Britain's base at Singapore and United States fortifications at Hawaii "should be reconsidered," while restrictions on Japanese islands along the Asiatic coast should be lifted, the adjutant declared:

"The Japanese navy considers it desirable to continue nonfortification agreement contained in Article 19 of the Washington treaty. Its psychological value is great, although its importance as a naval defence factor has diminished since 1922 owing to the greatly extended cruising radius of submarine power.

JAPAN ABROGATED

"However, since the Washington treaty has been abrogated (by Japan), article 19 ranks as useless . . . it is incorporated in a new naval treaty or renegotiated separately with Japan, American and Great Britain. "Japan is willing to consider such re-negotiation but desires revision."

These and all measures of this province should be issued payable in Canadian funds only and guaranteed by the provincial government and the said bank or corporation should accept these bonds at par and no rates of exchange charged should cover the bare cost of operation plus a reasonable percentage to build a safe revenue.

HOWSON IS BUSY

W. R. Howson, K.C., provincial Liberal leader, has submitted a resolution to the city council which is the opinion that the government should immediately call a conference of the representatives of the Independent Oil Companies, the shareholders of such companies, the City of Calgary, the surface owners and consumers, the surface owners and lease holders for the following among other objects to recommend proper regulations for the development of the oil industry in Alberta; to protect the shareholders of the operating companies; to prevent the industry being controlled by a monopoly and particularly to bring about a reduction in the cost of oil and gasoline to the consumers."

DEMANDS REPORT

Harvey Beckerry, Liberal member for Pincher Creek, is demanding that the government through its deputy minister of trade and industry, be instructed to undertake and make a complete report on the following:

1. The cost of production, refining and distribution of gasoline, oil and fuel oils.

2. The cost of manufacture and distribution of farm machinery, dairy equipment and machine repair parts.

F. R. Falconer, member for Athabasca, has submitted a resolution asking that the government "adopt at once an aggressive policy of local and national road construction and maintenance in those areas which are not already equipped and provided with these necessary facilities."

REDUCED GRAIN RATE

Insistent demand for a reduced freight rate on hay and straw from prairie points is contained in another resolution submitted by W. Farquharson, who demands a just and reasonable rate on local grain shipments to one of our most convenient and valued markets.

He also demands that "the laws and regulations thereto respecting the export of grain be amended so as to clearly define the United States of America as a foreign country within the meaning of the Act in order that the Canadian farmer may secure the full benefit of the export trade."

VIGOROUS POLICY

Adoption of a more vigorous policy of noxious weeds prevention and eradication is advocated by A. J. Bowlen in another resolution placed on the order paper. Mr. Bowlen claims that the noxious weed menace is growing "increasingly alarming," and is "causing great activity in the adjoining states."

L. A. Giroux, Liberal member for Grouard is urging that "the tax or royalty upon gold under the Act of raw pelt of fur producing animal shall be reduced from 10 per cent and that the said tax or royalty shall be on a basis of grade and value."

In another resolution, Mr. Howson is urging that "the Workmen's Compensation Act should be completely reviewed and amended so as to insure that every injured workman shall receive his just further than Vancouver is going; they asked that money for municipal government be provided at cost. There was no difference of opinion there, and Ald. Fry objected to reduced interest for western Canadian municipalities or had any other suggestion to make he surely would have spoken there.

COMMISSIONER IN DARK

"Commissioner Mitchell advises me that he is away when he arrived at the Sinking Fund Board meeting yesterday the matter was already under discussion, and he did not know where it came from or who introduced it.

"Alderman Fry, as representing the City Council, was due to attend a meeting with the Electrical Workers' Union at 11:00 a.m. This meeting was arranged so as not to conflict with the Sinking Fund Board, and yet we found that Alderman Fry had another meeting to attend and could not remain to discuss this matter, which must be settled before the mill rate is struck.

MUST BE SHOWN

"If this is anything but an inspired move of the bond-dealers, I will have to be shown.

"Every government in Canada, and many private people, are reviewing their obligations. If Mr. Geer is wrong, why doesn't someone tell him how to reduce interest on the right basis? I am not going to say he is wrong, but pay, pay, pay.

"Shylock made 'The Merchant of Venice' famous by insisting on his interest in full—when the bond called for a pound of flesh he told Mr. Shylock where he headed in at.

"Don't let us throw any more stumbling blocks in the way of trail-blazers like McGeer. The time to pipe for a change in interest rates now, and any road is a good road to try—especially t'ew roads. If this move has anything to recommend it to scare or bluff Vancouver into paying through the nose unfair and exorbitant interest charges, I cannot see it.

STILL BACKS GERRY

"I have sent a telegram of encouragement to Vancouver's mayor in spite of the slap taken at my sister city by two members of our Sinking Fund Board and am sure I expects more opposition from many sources than he can get from any two citizens of Edmonton, one of whom is not elected to office and whose opinions on financial jugglings are unknown to many.

"It is clear to me that Mayor McGeer's efforts are to prevent Vancouver getting stuck on the jackpot as Prince Rupert, North Vancouver, Sandwich and Windsor, Ontario, have done, and deserves encouragement, not traps or obstacles.

"If Vancouver wants to pay something for anything, they should be helped.

"It is a surprise to many citizens to find that although no progress seems to be made yet in striking home rule mill rate, Vancouver's aldermen majority has time or interest to help stop Vancouver from getting out of its difficulties."

WANTS TO KNOW

In order to clear up this hurried and unannounced meeting, Mayor McGeer submitted to City Secretary Barnhouse the first thing Friday morning the following letter of inquiry:

"I wish you would obtain for me with all convenient speed (today) from the secretary of the Sinking Fund Board (who, I am well aware, is yourself), full and complete information in regard to the resolution, or decision, arrived at by the Edmonton Sinking Fund Board on Thursday, February 7th, in regard to the extraordinary action of the Sinking Fund Board in dealing with Vancouver Bonds, as published in the local papers.

"In order to more directly point out the information I require, I submit to you the following questions, for immediate answer:

1. Who were present at this Sinking Fund Board meeting?

2. The exact wording of the motion, or resolution, which appears on the minutes of the meeting, and whether the same was submitted in writing or not.

3. What information was before the Board showing what, if any, official action had been taken by the Vancouver Sinking Fund Board or the Vancouver City Council? I do not want this information confined merely to a report of any speech, or expression of opinion on this, or any other subject, made by the Mayor of Vancouver in his praiseworthy effort to secure a reduction of interest rates for Vancouver and incidentally for Edmonton and all other cities in Western Canada.

4. Was there any such action taken by or to members of our Sinking Fund Board that such action was contingent on the approval of Vancouver in his praiseworthy effort to secure a reduction of interest rates for Vancouver and incidentally for Edmonton and all other cities in Western Canada.

5. It is the rule of our Sinking Fund Board that important or unusual business be dealt with without notice being given to all the members thereof, of which as you know I am a member.

6. What is the exact wording of the resolution, or decision arrived at by the Edmonton Sinking Fund Board on Thursday, February 7th, in regard to the extraordinary action of the Sinking Fund Board in dealing with Vancouver Bonds, as published in the local papers.

1. The cost of production, refining and distribution of gasoline, oil and fuel oils.

2. The cost of manufacture and distribution of farm machinery, dairy equipment and machine repair parts.

F. R. Falconer, member for Athabasca, has submitted a resolution asking that the government "adopt at once an aggressive policy of local and national road construction and maintenance in those areas which are not already equipped and provided with these necessary facilities."

REDUCED GRAIN RATE

Insistent demand for a reduced freight rate on hay and straw from prairie points is contained in another resolution submitted by W. Farquharson, who demands a just and reasonable rate on local grain shipments to one of our most convenient and valued markets.

He also demands that "the laws and regulations thereto respecting the export of grain be amended so as to clearly define the United States of America as a foreign country within the meaning of the Act in order that the Canadian farmer may secure the full benefit of the export trade."

VIGOROUS POLICY

Adoption of a more vigorous policy of noxious weeds prevention and eradication is advocated by A. J. Bowlen in another resolution placed on the order paper. Mr. Bowlen claims that the noxious weed menace is growing "increasingly alarming," and is "causing great activity in the adjoining states."

L. A. Giroux, Liberal member for Grouard is urging that "the tax or royalty upon gold under the Act of raw pelt of fur producing animal shall be reduced from 10 per cent and that the said tax or royalty shall be on a basis of grade and value."

In another resolution, Mr. Howson is urging that "the Workmen's Compensation Act should be completely reviewed and amended so as to insure that every injured workman shall receive his just claims and particularly to provide for an independent body of review of all cases where dissatisfaction has arisen or may arise in the future."

GREAT DISSATISFACTION

In support of his motion, Mr. Howson claims that administration of the Act through the province is causing great dissatisfaction.

Mr. Giroux, in another resolution, urges upon the government shall, according to the recommendation of the research council, proceed with the drilling of test wells at such points as are recommended by the said research council in order to ascertain the possibility of securing potable and domestic water for the benefit of the population and thereby prevent the spread of diseases and protect the health of the people."

Saskatchewan's Trustees Meet

REGINA, Feb. 8.—The annual convention of Saskatchewan school trustees will be held in Moose Jaw Feb. 13, 14 and 15. Registration to date indicate an attendance of 500. John L. McFarland, Canadian wheat pools, will address the meeting on "The Wheat Problem." Resolutions to be discussed are minimum salary for teachers, establishment government text book bureau, equalization school taxes and the proposal of the teachers that small rural districts should be made into larger units for administration purposes.

ASK DEFINITE STAND ON U.F. PARTY POLICY

Would Like to Know Whether Govt. Adheres to C.C.F.

Demand that the government should immediately announce definitely whether it adheres to the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation or whether it does not, is contained in a resolution placed on the legislative order paper by Hugh C. Farthing, K.C., Conservative, Calgary.

Mr. Farthing declares, in support of his resolution, that "the government of the province of the United Farmers of Alberta political party which by resolution of its convention is pledged to support of a larger political party known as the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation and which is about to bring into effect the professed policy of the C.C.F. without extensive legislative action in the field of provincial jurisdiction as well as of Dominion, for which reason the said Federation participated in the contested recent provincial elections in British Columbia, Ontario and Saskatchewan."

BONE OF CONTENTION

This subject has been a bone of contention in provincial politics for the last two years. Two sessions ago a resolution was placed on the Order Paper on the same subject, by the late C. F. Adams, Calgary Edmonton, but it died on the paper without debate concluding.

The same subject was discussed widely in the U.F.A. caucus held here in December and again at the U.F.A. convention in Calgary in January, where it was finally decided that the U.F.A. candidates would preserve their identity in the provincial field without alliance with the C.C.F.

ber, although without any right to vote.

6. Was any suggestion made to you as City Treasurer, or to anyone else, that the Mayor, who was a sealing director of the Commissioner Mitchell, also a member of the Board should, even after the question was settled, be notified of the business then before the meeting?

7. What was the position taken upon this question by Mr. S. H. Smith, and how was his opinion expressed at the Board meeting?

8. How long was the Sinking Fund Board in session at this meeting, during the time Alderman Fry was transacted thereat?

9. Please give me a copy of the resolution, or decision taken by the board when North Vancouver actually defaulted on their bonds held by Edmonton, also a copy the Town of Sandwich, Ontario, and the amount involved in each case.

10. Has any motion or Notice of Motion or other reference been made before the Sinking Fund Board in regard to reducing the fee of $5.00 for the weekly attendance at the Sinking Fund Board, or of limiting the amount that may be earned or received by any one member in any one year?

11. Was the third member of the Sinking Fund Board now absent from the City consulted or did he send any advice or instructions as to his opinion in this matter?

12. Also let me know how these Vancouver Bonds were purchased:

(a) Was it through a broker or a bank?

(b) If so, who?

(c) How much commission did he or they get?

(d) Upon whose advice or recommendation were they purchased?

13. Also the same information about the default bonds of Sandwich, Ontario, and North Vancouver, B.C.

"I wish to impress upon you as city treasurer, and as secretary of the Sinking Fund Board, that I personally (in 1919-20) arranged by the commissioners added to the Sinking Fund Board, without vote, in order that all controversy they might have first hand information regarding all proceedings relating to Edmonton property. I expected to be notified of all meetings of the Board, and be brought before the board. The mere fact that I, as mayor, was satisfied to allow Commissioner Mitchell to attend the board meetings alone is no reason why I should be kept in ignorance as to the transactions of the meetings. In this instance, I exercised my own opinion as to the advisability of attending this meeting. I, of course, was under the impression that one commissioner being present and advising information would be sufficient for the purpose. Needless to say, the information I received, in the first instance at 7:00 p.m. from the local papers, was surprising, to say the least.

"I shall expect you to prevent me being kept in such ignorance in the future.

"You will understand that in addressing you as our city treasurer, I expect you to exercise the same diligence as if you were not also secretary of the Sinking Fund Board.

"I am anxious to have a reply to this inquiry before noon today.

"JOSEPH A. CLARKE,
"Mayor."

JEALOUSY IS BLAMED FOR CITY SHOOTING

Paul Nazor Plunges Knife Into Breast, Then Shoots Woman

An illicit romance of five years' duration ended shortly after noon on Thursday in violence and bloodshed for Mary Shamko, 32 and her common-law husband Paul Nazor, 42.

In a blaze of fiery jealousy, Nazor, according to a confession made to police shortly after his arrest at 1:30 p.m. plunged a table knife into his breast and then fired a .22 calibre bullet into the shoulder of Mary Shamko. Both were rushed to the Royal Alexandra hospital. Nazor under arrest for attempted murder.

The arrest was made by Sergeant Ed. Watson in charge of the North Edmonton police station, who picked Nazor up in front of the Transit Hotel, on the Fort Trail as the man was on his way to the station to give himself up.

When report of the shooting reached downtown headquarters, Police Chief A. G. Shute with Detectives Munro and John Orr, Watson raced out to North Edmonton, but the affair was over on their arrival.

TOO LOW FOR HEART

The table knife which Nazor plunged into his left breast entered two inches, but failed to reach the heart, resulting wound was not serious enough to prevent police from questioning him as he was whisked away to the Royal Alexandra hospital.

Both Nazor and his common law wife, Mary Shamko agreed in the first part of their stories. A widow with five children, Mrs. Shamko lived for a year with Nazor at Buchannan, Saskatchewan, where he deserted his own family.

DESERTED HIS FAMILY

Leaving his own wife and children at Buchannan, Nazor came to this city with Mrs. Shamko, and her five children. During their residence here at 6412 130 avenue, during which time Nazor worked driving a water wagon, the woman bore him a child.

Continual bickering between the two came to a head Wednesday morning when Nazor called at the house at 8:30 a.m. Harsh words were exchanged and after Mrs. Shamko had packed the chil en off to school, she ordered Nazor out of the house.

"Beat it," the woman was quoted as saying to Nazor. "I've brought I am marrying a rich farmer who lives out in the country."

Although police have not determined the identity of the "rich farmer", they learned that his farm is 30 miles south of the city.

BORROWED RIFLE

Nazor left the house and went to the residence of John Kushuz, 64 street, where he borrowed the .22 rifle. Returning to the house, he found the woman absent and pulled the bullet from the rifle.

Running out to the stable at the rear of the house, he concealed himself in the manger and when the woman, apparently having a change of heart, came out to look for him, he plunged the knife into her, the bullet entering just below her left collar bone and ploughing down and across her breast, under the skin in the small of the back.

The shot was heard by neighbors, who called police, but when Sergt. Watson arrived at the Nazor residence, a one-storey frame shack, he found only the woman there. Driving south, he spotted Nazor in front of the Transit hotel, and arrested him.

"I didn't mean to kill her," Nazor told police, "I only wanted to hurt her."

Neither Nazor nor the woman are critically injured.

BRUNO TRIAL KIDNAP CASE ENDS DEFENCE

Hauptmann's fingerprints was found; Hauptmann did not build ping; money which swelled his assets after the ransom payment came, unrecorded, from his stock investments; Hauptmann was at a musicale in his home on the night of March 1, 1932.

Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon says he paid him the ransom money in a Bronx graveyard; Hauptmann was at home for his own birthday party Nov. 26, 1933, when a theatre ushered says he spent at Lindbergh ransom bill, and persons other than Hauptmann were seen in the police lineup at Lindbergh near the Lindbergh home before the crime.

Wood Expert Takes Stand

FLEMINGTON, N.J., Feb. 8.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's own wood expert offered further defense testimony in the trial today in an effort to prove his contention a piece of the Lindbergh kidnap ladder did not come from Hauptmann's attic.

Charles J. De Blasiohp, contractor of Washington, D.C., who gave his opinion late yesterday that the famed "rail 16" of the ladder and a floor board in the attic had no relation—an opinion that dissented with one given by a state expert—produced a yellow pine carpenter square in court to show, he said, that such trees have more knots near the base than above.

HAD FEWER KNOTS

It was his contention that the attic floor board, from which the state charged rail 16 had been sawn, had fewer knots than the rail. The rail was used as an upright in one of the three sections of the ladder. Dr. David T. Wilentz, state prosecutor, in illustrate his contention that there were more knots at the bottom of a pine tree that at the top.

The contractor produced a pine sapling about 12 feet tall, sawn in two pieces.

HOLDS TOGETHER

Holding the two pieces together, Dr. Blasiohp showed that they fitted with a wooden spear tipped with pine needles.

Defence Counsel Pope then drew from the pudgy witness the statement that the reputed attic floor board in which the state has matched with the ladder upright showed no shadow of the joists to which it was nailed. The nicks would show, he stated. He likewise said it bore no marks of having been taken up by chisel, hammer or other implement.

On cross-examination, Blasiohp admitted the rail "might have been" nailed to joists.

Italy Wants Pacts Defined

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Italy and Great Britain that the multi-lateral treaties projected in eastern and central Europe should be simplified so as to permit their eventual inclusion in one diplomatic document, this is understood, was set forth in detail by Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador, when he called on Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, yesterday.

Sir John received the ambassador on the eve of his departure for Paris where he will go by plane today to attend the annual dinner of the British Chamber of Commerce in France.

Nine of 21 relief workers returning from a highway construction camp were instantly killed, early this morning. 19-year-old Roger Ross of Fort William, died in hospital.

Ross, a member of the Fort William Maroons junior hockey team had accepted a lift in the truck on his way here for a league game.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES ANNUAL BANQUET

With an attendance of 270 the Alberta School Trustees' Association held a banquet in the basement of the Masonic Temple, Thursday evening.

T. O. King, president of the association, presided, and the dinner was followed by a short musical program during which Miss Violet Cumming and A. Gunderson each rendered solos, Gunderson a pianist for the evening was H. Alack.

OLD COUNTRY TOUR

Guest speaker for the evening was Rev. Charles G. Stone, First Baptist Church, who gave an outline of his recent visit to England.

The impressions gained by visits to points of interest both in England and Scotland were given by the speaker who also spoke of the visit he had paid to the tomb of Robert Guthrie, founder of the first school for ragged boys.

BUILDING FUTURE

The same ideals stated the speaker, actuated those present in the work they were accomplishing for the school children of today. The world of the young, said Mr. Stone, had a claim on strength and although those present often found themselves faced with hard and humdrum tasks they could feel that they were helping to build the men and women of the future.

Impressions gained during his visit to Germany and particularly Berlin and to the catacombs of Rome were also given by the speaker.

Alberta Election May Be Held Ahead Of Dominion Vote

Bitter Pre-election Session in Province May Forecast Result of Federal Poll.

With all the pomp and ceremony of the opening of behind it the fifth session of the seventh legislature of Alberta—the last session before another general election—got under way on Friday.

Already signs are not lacking that it will be the most momentous session since the province was organized in 1905, and the outcome is being closely watched from other points in Canada in an effort to determine which way the political tide in the Dominion is flowing.

OUTSTANDING EVENTS

Since the members gathered in the legislative chamber last year many outstanding events and startling things have happened. The government in particular has passed through trying times which have rocked its cabinet to the core. During last year's session the government was led by former Premier J. E. Brownlee and a little more than two months after the house prorogued he was charged in a civil suit for damages with seducing Vivian MacMillan and her father, A. D. MacMillan, of Edson, being the plaintiffs. A jury found the premier guilty of the charge, but the judge quashed the damage award.

The atmosphere around Parliament Hill is tense and feelings are strained. All this goes to indicate a lively session whatever the course of the legislative current may be.

The session, however, assumes importance because of the fact that it is the last of this legislature, and will be marked by pre-election budgeting, legislating and criticism. In general the trend of legislation will be an advance along social improvement lines. Much of the legislation that has been planned by the government will doubtless be subjected to the outcome of similar legislation to be brought before the house in Ottawa by Premier Bennett.

The question of the date for the election has not been settled yet, but the best prediction is that it will take place about the 15th of July, certainly not later than the 31st of July and not earlier than the middle of June. The reasons for this are obvious. Alberta has a farmers' government and it knows better than fixing the day for an election at a time when the farmers will be either busy with spring work or harvest operations. July is the most favorable time as there is a lull in agricultural operations.

ONLY THREE LABOR

The composition of the legislature will be the same as in last year's session, with the exception that there will be only three Labor members instead of four, owing to the death last summer of the late Alderman Gibbs, M.L.A., whose seat has not been filled. The relative strength of the parties will be: Government 36, Liberal 13, Conservative 2, Labor 3 and Independents 4. There are 63 seats in the legislature. The combined opposition will muster 26 to the U.F.A. 36, giving the government a majority of 10 on all major questions.

With the eyes of political centres around the Conservative group. For the first time in the history of Alberta this party will have a candidate in every constituency in the province when the elections take place, and the group in the house under the leadership of D. M. Duggan, M.L.A., is expected to make a bogged down after he had gunned his way out of one trap set by police and federal agents at Pittsburg.

FOUR WOMEN ALSO

A pistol woman put officers on the trial of the 34-year-old extortionist charged in a charge that he was the money changer in the $200,000 abduction of Edward G. Bremer, wealthy St. Paul banker.

Doyle, H. C. Stanley, his Pittsburgh host, and these women are in custody:

Mrs. Frances Taylor, alias Mrs. Helen Bush, 27, who is near death from bullet wounds in the hand and abdomen suffered on a Kansas city street late Tuesday.

DOYLE'S MOLL

Mrs. Vinita Stacey, 32, sweetheart of Doyle, held on a charge of assault with intent to kill as the gunwoman who shot Mrs. Taylor, her apartment neighbor.

Mrs. Edna Murray, 34, "The Singing Bandit," sister of Mrs. Stacey. She has been a fugitive since Nov. 5, 1931, when she went over a fence at the Missouri women's prison farm to escape serving a 25-year term for robbery.

Mrs. H. C. Stanley, unknown to Kansas city police.

The shooting of Mrs. Taylor and the arrest of Mrs. Stacey forced Doyle to quit a Kansas city hideout Wednesday, police said. With both the wounded woman and Mrs. Stacey under questioning, officers were soon on his trail.

Edmonton Girls In Semi-Finals

CALGARY, Alta., Feb. 8—Barbara Jarman and Peggy Aitken, University of Alberta Club, were the only players to advance to the semi-finals of the ladies' singles in matches played on the Provincial Badminton Tournament at Glencoe Club Friday morning.

Jarman-Aitken combination, Mitchell-Radford teams, also from the north, were still in the running.

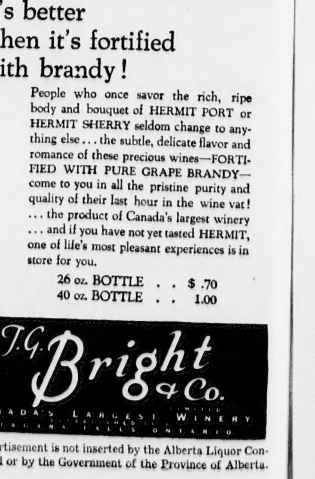

noise in the proceedings out of all proportion to its small numbers.

LIBERALS NUMBER 13

The Liberal group numbering 13 in the house are the largest opposition group to the U.F.A. government and their party leader, W. R. Howson, K.C., M.L.A., has a platform which parallels that of the federal Liberals in many respects. It includes provision of public health services with the establishment of subsidiaries, medical practitioners and nurses, and including a scheme of health insurance.

The Labor group in the house, under the leadership of Fred J. White and Alex Ross, is also vocal during the sessions owing to its loss of the capable contributions to the debates of the late Alderman C. L. Gibbs, who will be missed by his party. His death is the only one to be recorded among the members during the year.

And so Alberta's seventh legislature commences its last lap with the prospects for lively debate and pre-election legislation bright, and the parties girding their loins for the battle at the polls to come off next summer.

JUMP TARIFFS, BARTER ABROAD: B.C. THREAT

INQUEST IS OPENING OF CRIME DRIVE

Bolseng Girl's Death To Open Up Illegal Operation Racket

"The law cannot allow anyone to get away with corrupting these young and defenceless girls who ultimately end up in the morgue," pleaded H. A. Mackie, K.C., counsel for the Bolseng family, in attempting to bring out additional evidence during the inquest Thursday afternoon in the city police court on the death of Alice "Bradley" Bolseng, 22-year-old cafe waitress who the jury decided, died as the result of an illegal operation.

Alice Bolseng

Evidence had been heard that Miss Bolseng, finding herself pregnant, had visited the North Edmonton home of Mrs. Bertha Paquay, 44-year-old ex-hospital nurse from Brussels, Belgium. On the third trip to the Paquay home, the girl is alleged to have submitted to an illegal operation, January 27, immediately suffered shock and intense cramps, and died in the Misericordia hospital from septic poisoning the morning of February 1.

The evidence of several witnesses was woven into a coherant story when Mr. Mackie and Prosecutor Charles Becker became engaged in a heated argument, carried on in tones not audible to the court.

DEATH CAUSE ONLY

The first suggestion of a hitch in proceedings came when Mr. Becker addressed the court saying, "There is the question of who caused the pregnancy of the girl. This is an inquest and we are concerned only with the cause of death. I do not intend to allow any holiday or circus in the court. This will be no fishing expedition. Complete details of the entire case will be brought out at the preliminary hearing of Mrs. Paquay Monday on the manslaughter charge."

"I have no intention of being a party to any circus," countered Mr. Mackie.

"But I read in one of the newspapers that you had been instructed by the father to 'tear open the case'," replied Mr. Becker.

"This girl was made drunk," Mr. Mackie spoke to the court. "And someone will have to answer to the law for the events of that night. The witnesses here could give the evidence if they were allowed to do so.

MORGUE THEIR FINISH

"The law cannot allow anyone to get away with corrupting these young and defenceless girls who ultimately end up in the morgue."

Chief Provincial Coroner, Dr. E. A. Braithwaite, ruled for the Prosecutor, pointing out that the details could, and probably would, be bared in the manslaughter preliminary on Monday.

Drs. Gordon Gray and J. A. McGregor, pathologist, testified that the girl died of septic poisoning following an illegal operation.

Called to a room in a 101 street block at noon January 28, by Josephine Graham, Miss Bolseng's roommate, Dr. Gordon Gray found the victim on the bed in an agony of pain. Ordering her removed to the hospital, the doctor attended her until she died the morning of February 2.

FRIEND'S STORY

Miss Graham on the stand said that Alice Bolseng before she died had told her of certain happenings which were not disclosed in court.

"She told you she was pregnant?" asked the Prosecutor.

"Yes."

"What did she do?"

"She made several trips to a house in north Edmonton."

Miss Graham was the witness who led police to the Paquay home in the early stages of their investigation.

"Did you go with her on one occasion?"

"Yes, but only to see that she was alright."

Mrs. Paquay, sitting in court in the custody of the police matron was identified by the witness as the woman in attendance at the North Edmonton house.

"She took Alice upstairs," related Miss Graham, "and when Alice came down she looked terrible."

"Did Alice say what had happened?"

"Yes," replied the witness and went on to describe the technique of an illegal operation as told to her by Alice Bolseng.

"Did you see her at the hospital?"

"Yes."

"What did she say?"

"MAN" WAS MISSING

"She asked me if I had seen a certain man and I told her that he hadn't been around any more."

"Do you know to what man she referred?"

"Well . . . yes maybe," replied the witness with hesitation.

It was here that Prosecutor Becker and the Bolseng counsel, H. A. Mackie, K.C., tangled over how far the witness should be grilled.

Detective William McDonald related the story of being guided along with Chief of Detectives Sutherland, to the Paquay home by Miss Graham.

OPERATIONS ADMITTED

"Mrs. Paquay admitted that Alice Bolseng had been there January 27," said the witness, "and, after being warned, confessed to having performed the illegal operation. She told me she couldn't understand how death had come about as she had used the greatest care."

In the formal statement made to police and read into the records by Detective McDonald, Mrs. Paquay named several girls who had been "patients" in her home and stated that "times being hard she had made no fixed charges, the girls paying what they could, usually $5 each."

The court was packed with girls several of whom hurriedly rose and left, their faces covered with embarrassment as they made their exit from court, when the Paquay statement brought out names.

"Machine-ized" to Point Where Man-Power Not Required

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 — A government committee report handed President Roosevelt yesterday accused automobile manufacturers of complicating the unemployment and social problems of the United States by resorting to newer and faster machinery to replace manpower.

The report said the industry had speeded up to a pace considered too fast for men of 40 years of age and that in some instances 19 men now do the work of 250.

The report was compiled by a committee under Leon Henderson, director of the NRA research and planning division.

Vancouver Police Injured As Pickets Lay Rock Barrage

Second Melee Within 48 Hours Finds Strikers Fighting Viciously

VANCOUVER, Feb. 8 — One police officer received severe head and face lacerations, several others were cut about the hands and a number of demonstrators received bruised heads when police clashed with 200 pickets near the Bloedel, Stewart and Welch shingle mill at the foot of Boundary road, Burnaby, Thursday. It was the second assault on police within 48 hours.

The melee started when the pickets attacked two truckloads of shingles which were leaving the mill and attempted to overturn them. About 40 officers, who had been sent to the area in case of trouble, charged the demonstrators, who replied with a shower of rocks before they were dispersed.

Provincial Constable G. Davis of Victoria received emergency treatment for head and face lacerations.

It was the second clash between officers and alleged unionists who have been picketing the mill since Monday when they walked out after their demands for higher wages were refused. Non-union men were employed to take the place of those who went on strike. Wednesday the picketers overturned a truckload of shingles shortly after it left the mill. They were later dispersed by police.

Homesteader Shot As Rifle Explodes

DAWSON CREEK, B. C., Feb. 8.—Harry Kent, homesteader of Sunset Prairie district, was rushed into Dawson Creek hospital Thursday night suffering from serious gunshot wounds in the face and hand caused by the explosion of a .32 highpower rifle which he was handling early Thursday morning.

PARLIAMENT DAY-BY-DAY

TODAY

The House of Commons will give further consideration to government measures.

Will probably discuss Canada's adherence to international conventions providing for the eight-hour day and a weekly day of rest.

May give second reading to unemployment relief measure.

YESTERDAY

The Senate did not sit.

The House of Commons spent nearly entire day discussing a private member's resolution declaring approval of empire trade agreements should be recorded.

Debated resolution until closing time when it was still before house.

Heard J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, and Miss Agnes MacPhail, only woman member, protest that debate was waste of time and merely political.

Heard Hon. W. A. Gordon announce Canada and Belgium removed from governing body of the International Labor office at Geneva, had been given seats as deputy members.

100 SAVED, 9 HURT IN CRASH

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8 — Nine persons were injured and more than 100 rescued as the London Corporation, of the Furness-Withy line, collided with the Reading railroad ferry boat Cape May in the Delaware river.

M'GEER MAY OBTAIN SEAT PEACE RIVER

Peace River Liberals may persuade G. G. McGeer, K.C., mayor of Vancouver, to accept a nomination to the House of Commons from that area, according to reports reaching the city in political circles.

Since his tour of the Peace River country and his radio addresses on financial and economic subjects the forceful and dynamic Vancouver civic leader has had a big following in the Peace River area. His stand on the necessity of a coast outlet for that section of the country is well known and his fight for reduced freight rates for the west have also brought him prominently before the public as a champion of the west.

G. G. McGeer.

Those behind the move to have McGeer consider the possibility of running in Peace River point out that the interests of that area and of Vancouver are largely alike, especially insofar as a coast outlet for the Peace is concerned, and they feel that with him as a member the Paece River district would be represented by an able and courageous member, not only willing to fight for his district, but able to do so with full force.

Surgeon Dies

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Sir Thomas Parkinson, 72, distinguished British surgeon, died yesterday. He had lectured throughout the world and for many years was consulting physician to the American Hospital for English Soldiers.

The generator should be adjusted to keep the battery charged under winter driving conditions.

PATTULLO WOULD DEAL DIRECT IF OTTAWA FAILS

Co-operation With Industry to Secure Foreign Marts for Coast Products, is Proposal.

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 8.—Co-operation with industry to the extent of bartering with other countries wherever "We may be able to jump the tariff hurdles and do business profitably" was suggested by Premier T. D. Pattullo in a public address last night as a course the British Columbia government may take.

"We must have outside markets," said the premier. "We must use our influence in every possible way to induce Ottawa to leave no stone unturned to bring about reciprocal agreements with all countries with whom we can do business advantageously. The department of trade and commerce has been doing good work, but I think that the service should be further extended. It is our intention to take up this matter with Ottawa." If no satisfactory arrangements could be made with Ottawa then his own government might find it necessary to co-operate with industry in a barter project.

WEST IS LOSER

"At the present time," said Mr Pattullo, "we are buying annually from Eastern Canada at least $90,000,000 worth more than we sell to these provinces. This must be made up from other sources. This province has been an inexhaustible gold mine for our eastern friends. As a whole they are probably quite unconscious of it. By argument and persuasion we must correct this situation. It cannot continue."

AMEND B. N. A. ACT

"Opinion is now unanimous by all parties in Ottawa that the British North America Act must be amended," said Premier Pattullo. "So far as this province is concerned, we are going to insist upon amendments that will place the province in a more favorable financial position. There is conflict and overlapping which must be straightened out and sufficient resources of revenue must be allocated to the provinces so that they, and through them the municipalities, may adequately carry on."

CRAZED BY TROUBLES HE SHOOTS FIVE

Domestic Worry Leads Trucker to Slaying Orgie

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 8.—A 22-year-old truck driver, identified as Arthur Legrone, called at his father-in-law's home with a shotgun yesterday and started shooting, leaving three dead and two wounded.

The dead besides Legrone, were D. Sherrill Dickerson, the father-in-law, and Earl Legrone nine months, the slayer's son. Herman Lambert, 16, and his brother, Jesse, 18, were slightly wounded.

Legrone was described by officers as crazed by domestic troubles.

IMPOSING ON THE CITIES

Since the beginning of this year the city has paid out nearly $100,000 on relief account. Only $45,000 of this will be returned from the provincial and Dominion Governments. Under the three-way agreement the Governments would have borne two-thirds of the cost. The shuffle in relief allowances engineered by the Dominion last fall is apparently costing Edmonton something between $25,000 and $30,000 a month.

Relief in Calgary cost $135,000 in January, of which the city will have to provide $73,000.

If any Edmonton taxpayers thought the Calgary conference was extreme in threatening to throw the whole burden of relief on the Government at March 1st, these figures may cause them to modify their view.

The Governments are simply shouldering their responsibility upon the cities, knowing that the city councils will not leave people destitute while they can extend relief. The city taxpayers are being made to pay a share of the relief cost which should be paid by taxpayers at large, for no reason except that they cannot help themselves.

ONE END GAINED

France is to reconstruct and modernize its air fleet, at a cost of a hundred million dollars in addition to whatever number of millions are already available for the purpose. A thousand new defence planes, bombers, pursuit planes, combat planes and scouting planes are to be built this year, to replace those built a few years ago.

A frightful waste of course, viewed from the stand-point of the French taxpayer, or viewed as a mis-use of human energy which could be better applied in some other way. Yet it will serve one useful purpose. It will keep money circulating. There would be many more—perhaps 50,000 more—idle men in France this year if the air fleet was not being re-built.

Even building excess armament is better than building nothing when men cannot find work, providing the armament is never used. And for the same reason, the more often it is rebuilt and replaced the better. If buying power must be distributed as wages, then any kind of wage-paying work is all to the good in this respect when employment is scarce.

If armament-construction were paid for by current taxation, levied according to the ability to pay, the net result of building bigger and better navies and forts and air fleets would be to keep the money stream flowing, taxation pumping the money in at one end of the national treasury while the spending departments pumped it out at the other end. Building public works—even armaments—out of current taxation does precisely that.

SLIDING SCALE INTEREST RATES

Ultimately it is not the lender but the borrower who decides whether a debt shall be paid in full or only in part. When the debtor can't pay and his assets are not worth his liabilities, the creditor has to accept what he can get.

When that suggestion was made, in these columns as elsewhere, three years ago, there was no concerted movement among creditors to cut down interest rates and make it possible for farm and town debtors to carry their mortgages until the depression should end and earnings and property values move upward again. Adjustments were of course made in individual cases, but the general attitude was to let unpaid interest accumulate, add it to the principal, and hope the debtor would some day be able to clear off the whole accumulation.

Parliament decided at last session there was no use waiting and hoping for that uncertain day. Debts were mounting while the depression lingered. Debt arrangement legislation was accordingly passed, under which farm debts are now being slashed, principal and interest, as a measure of relief to the debtor, and to the lasting regret of the creditor who hoped to collect some time his principal at least in full.

Interest rates should move down or up with the average level of prices and wages; that is, earnings. That is the only arrangement just to both lender and borrower. And, as present proceedings show, it is the only arrangement under which lending and borrowing can be safe to either party involved. Good times money-wages become uncollectable when labor-wages go down and in many cases vanish entirely.

NO TRUCK OR TRADE

The trade deal between Moscow and Washington is off. The Soviet refuses to pay Russia's $500,000,000 of pre-revolution debts owing in the United States. Wherefore, Washington announces the draft trade treaty is in the discard.

This will be good news for Britain and Germany, who are doing a flourishing, satisfactory and expanding trade with Russia, and have decided to "forget" the debts of the old regime. It would be good news also for Canadian manufacturers and others if we had a government which would do anything to encourage trade with Russia.

So far as the public are aware there are no unpaid debt claims blocking the path of commerce between this Dominion and the Soviet empire; nothing in fact barring the way except the strong dislike of our Prime Minister for the Russian type of government. Canadians generally share his sentiments in that respect, but not to the extent of wanting to lose business to prove how they dislike Stalin. There are some features of the government of the Fiji Islands to which Canadians would take exception, but we buy some sugar from them all the same, and sell them everything they can pay for.

There is no danger that Ottawa will wire the Soviet representative to come and make a bargain, since Washington won't deal with him. Mr. Bennett told the Commons the other day, in language which suggested a feeling of insult, there was no truth in the report he or any of his ministers had been holding conferences with the unspeakable Litvinoff.

There is no indication that the new-born impulse to reform at Ottawa has gone the length of arousing any interest in the possibilities of trade with the country which told delegates to the economic conference it was ready to place orders for $100,000,000,000 worth of foreign goods. We are as a nation apparently still standing pat on the proposition that it would be disloyal or sinful, or both, to have truck and trade with the political heretics at Moscow.

Poems That Live

ALL SAINTS'

In a church which is furnished with mullion and gable,
With altar and reredos, with gargoyle and

The penitents' dresses are sealskin and sable,
The odor of sanctity's eau-de-cologne.

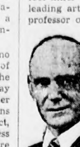

But only could Lucifer, flying from Hades,
Gaze down on this crowd with its paniers

He would say, as he looked at the lords and the

"Oh, where is All Sinners' if this is All

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

It is a sign of the times when a magazine like "American Mercury" that circulates among the sophisticates and claims America's leading fool-killer as its late editor, chooses for its leading article this month one by a university professor on "How a Navy Kills People."

J. S. Cowper

Though a navy does some specific killing, its real work as Prof. Knight points out is to do general killing. For instance: the British and German navies killed about 100,000 men during the Great war, "a disappointing showing," says the live professor, as compared with the nearly three millions directly slaughtered by the British and Germans in land warfare."

There is a catch in the calculation he points out. The navies had a hand in catching and killing twice as many human beings as the 13,000,000 who were directly done to death by guns and bombs and poison. The navies weakening millions of people in the combatant countries, visiting them with undernourishment and exposure till their bodies became fertile ground for germinous nature to kill and weaken and the survivors gave up. He goes on to say:

"So it would be hasty to judge naval efficiency only by direct killings, and therefore to condemn the allocation of a quarter of a billion dollars of NRA funds, or the appropriation of yet greater sums to follow, for the extension of our fleet. The question as to what the equipment is for may be answered reasonably by considering the probable character of a not improbable war with Japan."

It's said just as frankly as that by a university professor in a leading American magazine in this Christian country in the month of February in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-five.

Thereafter the article is a discussion of the possibilities of the bombing of U.S. coast cities—of the potency of mustard gas which in theory can kill 45,000,000 people per ton of gas, but which in practice in the World war only managed to kill 30 people per ton—of the efficiency of four-gun modern anti-aircraft batteries with automatic rangefinders which can fire one hundred 26-pound 3-inch shells per minute at a range of five miles, and score two and three hits out of every 100 shots. He gets quite eloquent in picturing what the American navy will be able to do in the event of war with Japan. He says:

"That is what a navy is for. It is to cut the enemy's lines of communication. It is to create shortage, to encourage profiteering, to shut off heat and light, to make elders wait for bread, and children for their elders. It is not mainly to kill sailors directly. It is to kill civilians in a general way. It is to give germs and food deficiencies the maximum opportunity to cause scrofula, rickets, scurvy, beri-beri, pellagra and the like; to spread tuberculosis, influenza, typhus, typhoid, scarlet fever, cholera, the plague, yellow fever—everything which can become rampant among a weakened population."

All this, of course, is predicated upon the theory that "our enemy . . . would concentrate most of his fleet . . . in the Sea of Japan, the Yellow Sea and the China Sea," and that "our navy would assume much the same role played by the British and American fleets in the world war." "It's purpose would be to do to Japan what the Allied Fleet did to the Central Powers in the World war."

He thinks it is all going to be as easy as that.

You've heard the story of the perplexed prospector with the new cookery book. "Hell, it's too impractical," he said. "Every recipe starts out with saying, 'Take a clean dish'." or that older one about jugged hare that starts, "First catch your hare." Professor Knight in his avid picture of how a U.S. fleet six thousand miles away from its base would bottle up a Japanese fleet of equal size in the Sea of Japan is calculating without the Japanese navy or the spirit of a people not content to quietly await starvation and all the diseases from Dr. Munyon's medical almanac.

Apart from the entertaining information in the professor's article, his reasoning is that of a simple child, quite sure that his pigeon-chested dad could knock out Jack Dempsey and Maxie Baer with one hand tied behind his back. Surely there is a sardonic humor underlying the selection of Prof. Knight's article for prominence in the Mercury.

That the Japanese navy is probably of equal size to that of United States at the moment is admitted by the professor. That its efficiency and discipline is less is much to be doubted, while the strategic advantages that Japan enjoys should be obvious. Where the professor errs is in thinking that Japan would adopt his form of strategy in preference to one of its own.

How very little the Japanese value their lives against the call of country was shown by the sailor who straddled the boom at Port Arthur, holding the charge with his hands till it exploded, and by the men who dashed forward on the Shanghai entanglements carrying live explosive. There will be no lack of volunteers for their man-driven torpedoes long before starvation and disease takes a toll, in the extremely unlikely event that a U.S. fleet could accomplish a blockade of the Sea of Japan.

Even the civilian population of Japan places little value on its life. Three hundred and fifty suicides and 1386 attempted suicides in the past two years have resulted in the establishment of "Wait-a-Bit" societies where 2500 young people have been dissuaded from suicide.

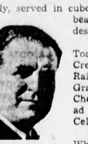

Sensation-hungry tourists are taken for an 85 cent fare to the sulphur-belching Mount Mihara, 59 miles from Tokyo, where from Suicide Point there have already been two triple suicides this year. The roofs of department stores have been fenced with barbed wire and guards stationed to stop the impulse among the girls of Tokyo, distracted by the perplexities of approaching maturity, to seek oblivion in a leap.

Japan has paid a price in human happiness for the forcing of her gates to modern civilization by the guns of Admiral Perry's fleet; she is avenging herself, as the African slave did, by seeking equality with the invader of her sanctity. And now a professor gloats at the prospect of visiting her with starvation, poison gas, small-pox, cholera and the plague.

SATURDAY—Breakfast: Baked Eggs, crisp Bacon; Melba Toast. Lunch: Potato on the half shell, Spinach; Raw Celery. Dinner: Broiled Steak, Carrots; Salad of Cucumbers and Lettuce; Applesauce.

*BAKED EGGPLANT—Boil eggplant until tender, cut off top, scoop out and chop fine. Add Melba toast crumbs, butter, and a bit of chopped parsley. You may also add any other chopped non-starchy vegetable you like. Mix well and fill shell. Cover with Melba toast crumbs and bake about 30 minutes. Serve with butter.

NOTE—When potatoes are boiled with their jackets on, they should be washed and a narrow band of skin cut from the centres. This tends to let the steam escape more rapidly after being cooked, and renders the potato more mealy and palatable. It also makes it easier to remove the skin at table.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—Miss Yvette asks: "What is the cause of migraine and what can be done to prevent it?"

ANSWER—Migraine is the name given to periodic headaches which occur only on one side of the head at a time. It is due to various disturbances of the nervous system and from the common cause of toxemia which is usually present with all headaches except those resulting from an accident. Colitis, constipation, and extreme prolapsus of the abdominal organs are also contributing causes.

QUESTION—Miss Diane asks: "Please tell me through your column what causes sneezing and a cold every morning, regardless of season whether summer or winter?

ANSWER—You must be suffering from a chronic state of catarrh which makes the irritating discharge in your nose and makes your sneeze each morning. If you will send me your full name and address on a large, stamped envelope I will be glad to send you some special articles on the cause and cure of catarrhal disorders.

QUESTION: Mrs. Alicia W. asks: "What is a ptosis of the stomach, what causes same, and what can be done for such a condition?"

ANSWER: Ptosis of the stomach simply means prolapsus of the stomach. This is caused through a weakening of the abdominal muscles and a stretching of the ligaments attached to the stomach. A cure can be achieved through strengthening the abdominal muscles and increasing the functional tone of all the abdominal organs, however, special manipulative and physio-therapy treatment may be required. I have an article on Prolapsus, together with an article on exercises, and I will be glad to send the 2 articles to you if you will write to me, enclosing 1 large self-addressed envelope and 6c in stamps.

Dr. Frank McCoy's great book, "The Fast Way of Health," gives you the mechanics of health in plain, easily understandable language.

A limited supply is on hand at The Bulletin. A copy will be mailed postpaid on receipt of $1.00. Just address The Bulletin.

If it is desired to communicate direct with Dr. McCoy, readers are requested to address communication direct to Dr. Frank McCoy, 629 South Ardmore Ave., Los Angeles, California, and replies will be mailed direct from that address.

Horoscope

By MARY BLAKE

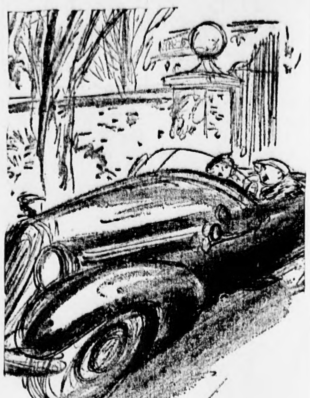

On February 9 it might be well to remember that the prerogatives of friendship have their limitations. It will be unwise to be unduly familiar with one. Married and engaged couples, as well as those seriously contemplating taking the matrimonial route, should be careful not to be extreme in word or action today.

If a woman, and February 9 is your birthday, do not let your love for sports, or out-of-door activities tempt you to assume a masculine pose, if you wish to appeal to, and hold the high esteem of men. You should be very happily married.

The child born on February 9, when it reaches its teens, may attach undue importance to its clothes and other personal belongings.

If a man, and February 9 is your natal day, you have the happy faculty of being able to make your home anywhere, and friends among all classes of people.

SIDE GLANCES—By Geo. Clark

"I'm always kidding my old man about not knowing anything except how to make money."

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History —o— By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date in 1842 the first council of the District of Johnstown met at Brockville under the presidency of Hon. William Morris. That mere statement does not seem significant on its face, but as a fact it is of the highest importance for it recalls the very first municipal government in Ontario, and from it have evolved the county and municipal system of Ontario and of a good deal of Western Canada also, for their municipal institutions were largely based upon those of Ontario.

Up to 1842 the local affairs of Upper Canada had been under the control of the justices of the peace in quarter sessions. These magistrates were appointed by the lieutenant council and were in no way responsible to the people. Dissatisfaction with this system arose and continued to grow and the culmination came in the rebellions of 1837 and 1838, for there were two, the Mackenzie one and the other led by men now forgotten but who suffered for the cause of liberty.

Three years after the suppression of the rebellion the legislature of the Province of Canada passed "an act to provide for the internal Government of that part of the Province which formerly constituted the province of Upper Canada by the establishment of Local or Municipal authorities therein." These District Councils thus came into being before the animosities of the rebellion period had died, and from the start party sentiment was very bitter.

The sequel is a most interesting phase of our municipal history and well worth study. If you are interested in the subject let me commend a little book gotten out by the Council of the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville at Brockville, which details in black and white the evolution of our municipal system during the seven years' experiment, at the end of which time further concessions came by the Municipal Councils act of 1850. When one thinks of the amount of work done by these pioneer district councils in providing roads, bridges, schools, etc., one can only conclude that our forefathers were men of great courage, much industry and great vision.

The Mail Bag

NOT FAR FETCHED

Editor Bulletin: The "Passing Show," by Cowper, telling of Benjamin Ullmo who served 26 years in "Devils Isle" and came back to Paris disappointed in our present civilization is not far fetched. He said, "What has struck me most is the extraordinary spiritual collapse in the world, and the decline in conscience and intelligence. I have been less impressed by the material progress. It is not so much the lowering of moral standards, as the immeasurable stupidity of present-day humanity, which regards itself so superior."

He has now gone back to "Devil's Isle"—too bad he might have been a little salt to the rest of the world if he had remained, now he is burying his talent. If more people could see what he saw and live up to its principles it would be better and safer for our present civilization.

We need only to look at our present day house parties where women drink and smoke as much as the men to see where we are drifting.

No civilization has survived a moral collapse. Past history will bear that out. Babylon, Egypt and Greece have had a high standard of civilization but have fallen. Babylon was invaded and captured by the Medes, under Darius while Belshazzar, king of the Chaldeans, and a thousand of his lords were drinking wine.

A prominent man in Arkansas is so convinced of the collapse of present civilization that he is building a pyramid, and is placing inside the history of our present civilization and the cause of its collapse, and a warning to future generations.

Let us not forget that "whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." and a grand reaping day is coming one of these days for us all

Current Comment

THE RAILWAY QUESTOIN

At Toronto last week Mr. Bennett dealt with the matter with his usual positive indefiniteness—or should it be indefinite positiveness? He also concluded by inviting suggestions as to how the question should be approached. It is in the spirit of this invitation that the Free Press ventures to suggest that a considerable step towards the solution of the problem would be taken if upon the next occasion upon which he discusses public questions he should lay down, explicity, two or three definite conditions which must be observed in dealing with the question.

He might say, first, that the people of Canada are in the railway business—however it has happened that they are there—for keeps; that they do not propose to permit the alienation of the system, nor its neutralization to the point that they will not, with respect to ultimate policy, be able to control it.

Mr. Bennett might then say publicly to the Canadian Pacific management that they must, once for all, dispossess themselves of the idea that by political pressure or by other means, they can get control of the Canadian National railway—by unification, by merger, by capture or by purchase. They should be advised to abandon these dreams and forego these ambitions; and to concentrate on the job in hand: the re-establishment in prosperity of the Canadian Pacific railway as a privately-owned and privately managed system. Within these fixed and continuing limitations the Canadian Pacific must succeed, in which case everybody will be happy; or it must fail, with the consequence monetary and otherwise, that go with failure.

Mr. Bennett would be supported by public opinion in saying to the Canadian Pacific owners and their representatives that if they will get out and stay out of politics and attend strictly to railroading the people of Canada will do anything that is in reason possible to enable them to make a success of their enterprise. The people of Canada do not want a railway monopoly, even if it should be their own monopoly. They desire to see the C.P.R. continue and prosper, and are ready to lend a hand to this end where this is practicable. For the Canadian Pacific as a railway serving useful public interests, the people have a friendly regard, but they are rapidly developing a very different attitude toward it, as a semi-political organization devoting its best energies to interfering with the operation of their own railway system. A broad hint to this effect by the Prime Minister of Canada might have some effect.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Irate Employer: "See here, you young Rip Van Winkle, I hired you only yesterday, and I believe you've been asleep ever since."

Sleepy Joe: "That's what I thought you wished, sir. Here's your advertisement: 'Wanted, an office boy, not over sixteen, must sleep on premises'."

Young husband: "I didn't marry you for your money, you know; rather in spite of it. Money doesn't make happiness; in fact, the less money the more happiness!"

Young Wife: "Then, darling, we shall be wonderfully happy. Daddy went bankrupt yesterday."

WATCH OF THE HOUR

LOVABLE

By Mary Raymond

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANN HOLLISTER breaks her engagement to TONY MICKLE the same day that PETER KENDALL tells VALERIA RESNEY, his fiancee, that everything is over between them. Ann thinks she still loves Tony and Peter believes he still cares for Valeria, but when chance brings the two together and Peter asks Ann to marry him she agrees.

They go to Florida and are happy there. Then Peter is recalled home. His friendly smiles Ann and Valeria tries to make trouble between Ann and Peter. She succeeds and Ann goes away, leaving no hint of her whereabouts.

Peter is disconsolate, believing Ann has discovered his love for her and gone because she can not return it. His efforts to find her are fruitless. One day he receives a message to come to a certain address and rushes there, hoping to find Ann.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXII

THE address on Bond street, which Peter arrived there proved to be an unimpressive brick apartment building. There was something depressing about the exterior and something infinitely more depressing about the interior. But to Peter it appeared as a green oasis in a barren desert. He would find Ann here! He was sure the telephone message had come from her.

He ran up the uncarpeted stairs, hearing voices above. The door to one room was open. It must be filled with a great many people, for some of them had spilled out into the hall. Peter recognized them as reporters.

He scowled blackly. If they were giving Ann trouble—

And then he stood for a moment, weak from disappointment, leaning against the door.

An angry young man, with pillows at his back, was sitting up in bed talking very crossly to his visitors, who grinned cheerfully back at him and went on taking notes.

The angry young man was Lowrence, the former chauffeur but he wore no uniform. Then Peter saw Carol.

"Oh, Peter, darling! I'd about given you up—what a time you took to come! Peter, there never know this story about my slipping off the train and coming back to marry Larry. How do they find out things like that? Peter, can't you keep them from putting it in the papers?"

Carol had rushed into his arms. Then he degrees, Peter heard what had happened. His sister had married the young football hero who had been dropped from college last spring for some escapade and whose disappearance had stirred the sport world.

"I had a tip that Ames was in town, working as a chauffeur or taxi driver," one reporter said to Peter. "The same fellow told me when Ames lost his job, tipped it off to where he was staying. I recognized your sister, did some sleuthing until I found out about the marriage and then came here to get the complete story. And what do I find? Reporters from every sheet in town camping on the doorstep. The same fellow must have told everybody else. Gosh, what a tough break when I thought I had it exclusive!"

"Now, if you will just pose with your arm about his shoulder," a camera man was saying persuasively to Carol.

"The idea! I will not."

"I guess they'll have a picture of you in the society files. And I know the files are full of pictures of Ames."

"What does it matter? What difference does it make?" Peter had said later. "All that matters is being happy. The next thing is to get you youngsters home."

Carol followed him to his car. "Peter, something has happened to you. Why didn't Ann come?"

Peter told her. And then he was hearing about Ann's visits, her pledge to secrecy.

No use now to be ashamed of his unjust doubts, when a mere terrible doubt was tormenting him.

The newspapers evidently thought Carol Kendall was to be congratulated for winning the young man who's football playing had made him an idol. His father had received the news of the marriage over telephone and was coming at once.

It was upon the note of, "I can forgive everything except your not taking me into your confidence," that Mrs. Kendall met the runaways. She had been influenced by the newspapers. To her amazement, Lawrence Ames, and not his rival Clare to Carol, was the dominant theme of all the articles.

Peter went out to break the news to his grandfather and stayed all night. The elder Kendall was genuinely shocked by the change in his grandson.

Peter looked thin and worn. His eyes were stricken. But the greatest change was not physical. He showed a weariness of spirit, a lethargy mentally and spiritually. Peter didn't seem to care what happened. The world could go to smash. It already had smashed for Peter.

The labor trouble at the factory had been cleared up. Prices were rising and his grandfather had revised the salary scale, with substantial wage increases. The arbitration committee had become a permanent organization and differences had been settled, for the time, at least. Peter's grandfather gave his grandson the credit.

"When he starts something," old Peter said with pride, "he doesn't stop until he finishes it."

Yes, matters had been righted, but the old gentleman thought this only half-heartedly, feeling that things were far from right when young Peter was so unhappy.

"I wish you had never seen that girl, Peter," he said. He had blamed Ann for marrying Peter, but never as he blamed her now for leaving his boy. She must be mad to leave a fine boy like Peter.

Peter went back to town next morning and plunged into work. He had an early dinner and returned to the office. The April day had turned warm, almost summer like. No night breeze had sprung up to relieve the closeness. The plans he had unrolled lay untouched upon his desk.

The telephone rang. Valeria's pleading voice said, "Peter, I'm lonely. It's deadly here."

Peter was lonely, too. And it was deadly where he was.

"Please, I need to get out. Won't you come?"

"Yes, I'll come."

"Soon?"

"Within the hour."

"I may pull you out on a party —just a few friends."

"I'll be there as soon as I drop by the club and change."

"Oh, thank you, darling."

Valeria's eyes were bright with excitement when she put down the telephone. She had hardly dared hope. Like everybody else, Peter could stand only so much unhappiness. She must make the most of this softened mood. If she could only persuade him to commit himself, to promise to start divorce proceedings!

Peter did not drink. But if he could be persuaded to drink a little now, he would fall in with her plans better.

She handed him a cocktail soon after he came. "Just one, you old celebrity. Peter, you really need to get off the wagon."

He smiled mirthlessly. Did she think that this small drink could chase his devils, get him in the proper party mood?

A gay party was in progress at Dirk's apartment. Glasses were being filled and re-filled as Peter and Valeria entered. Voices too shrill, too loud. Girls sitting close to men, their hands boldly clasped. Men talk and glances holding.

Valeria had said, "We're going to Dirk's. I just want to show you how harmless a place it really is."

"Hello, Peter! Will wonders never cease!" It was Dirk's voice. "Glad Valeria brought you."

"Peter's having something with me," Valeria said, her glance slanting towards Dirk. "One of your famous drinks, Dirk."

Dirk smiled. Valeria was getting ready to put the screws on, was she? Well, it would be fun to watch the little devil.

Peter took the glass, looking down at it darkly. Valeria waited him to drink. Well, if it gave her any fun, why not? He drank the thing and coldly and spiritually. Peter didn't seem to care what happened. The world could go to smash. It already had smashed for Peter.

The labor trouble at the factory had been cleared up. Prices were rising and his grandfather had revised the salary scale, with substantial wage increases. The arbitration committee had become a permanent organization and differences had been settled, for the time, at least. Peter's grandfather gave his grandson the credit.

Great Actor Finds Plays Runners-up

By RUTH BOWEN
Special to The Bulletin

CALGARY, Feb. 8.—"All good runners-up" was the verdict of Mr. Malcolm Morley, producer of plays and actor of distinction, of London, England, in giving his adjudication following the presentation of the first four plays in the Provincial Dramatic Festival in the Grand theatre on Thursday evening. None would be selected as a winner, but then, Mr. Morley admitted that he was "here to find fault," and, calling the attention of many details which in his estimation marred the effect of the plays, administered the best kind of tonic to the amateurs taking part.

"God Made the Country," by Elsie Park Gowan, presented by the University of Alberta, was the first play on the program, and, although it is not probable, according to Mr. Morley's criticism, that Varsity will again claim their laurels, the production was thoroughly creditable. "The play had much charm in the writing," Mr. Morley commented, although he found the climax too abrupt, and, criticizing it from the standpoint of drama, remarked that it was not brought about through the characters, but as an "act of God."

LIGHTING EFFECTS CRITICIZED

Stage technique—with humorous comments on love making to one's back-lighting, voices, "No word should be lost," he reminded the cast, makeup and integrity to character were given a new significance in Mr. Morley's remarks, overly ambitious lighting effects marred the play, sound effects, of thunder, were difficult, too. Margaret Aldwinkle was appealing in her role of the down-trodden wife, although the husband, played by John Chalmers, was more a nice fellow in a bad temper than genuine churl, Mr. Morley remarked. He spoke highly of Parker Kent's performance as Hugh Forbes. Norah Young directed the piece, ably and the stage manager was Parker Kent.

"The Camberley Triangle", by the Drumheller dramateurs, a comedy by A. A. Milne, lacked pace, the essential to comedy. Most difficult to produce was "The Second Visit" by John Bourne, presented by the Junior College Players. Eerie and sinister, the play called for unusual talent and direction and was considered somewhat too ambitious for amateurs. The players threw themselves into the piece with such intensity that tney overacted, was Mr. Morley's criticism.

GOOD MATERIAL

"Good material", described the cast of "Pygmalion", by George Bernard Shaw, presented by the Innisfail Amateur Players. In the cast were Ken Bridgewood, F. W. Bye, Mrs. F. W. Bye, H. H. Smith, and J. B. Giolma, Mrs. C. F. Dorsey was director.

Mr. Morley, who was introduced by Dr. G. W. Kerby, principal of the Junior College, spoke enthusiastically of the motivating spirit of the Dramatic Festival, the first festival to have been held in the Dominion, six years ago, was held in Calgary and was also the first to have been held in the Province of Alberta. Becoming a national event by edict of His Excellency the Governor-General, Mr. Morley estimated the time when it should be the interest of the Empire.

ROYAL ALEX. PLANS BRIDGE

Final plans for the annual bridge to be convened by Mrs. Sanford Haire on Monday, March 4, were made by members of the Royal Alexandra Hospital W.A., at their meeting in the Nurses' Home Wednesday afternoon. The affair will commence at 2:30 p.m. instead of 3, as previously announced, and will be held in the Nurses Home.

After the business meeting, bridge was enjoyed, each member having brought a guest. A number of nurses came in for tea. Prizes went to Mrs. Jeans, Mrs. Cox and Miss Einarson.

No More Piles

Doctor's Prescription Does The Work

Few Pile sufferers know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

This is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories so often may not give lasting relief and why cutting sometimes removes the pile tumor but leaves its exciting cause which may create a recurrence.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause. For this an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, and acts to relive congestion.

So isn't it better, when salves fail and before considering operation, to try this internal remedy when Merrick Drug Stores invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with money-back if not joyfully satisfied with the help one bottle gives.

the social round . . . .

HISTORIC and picturesque ceremonial, such as has been associated with similar functions for more than six centuries under British regime, characterized the formal opening Thursday afternoon of the fifth and last session of the seventh legislature of the Province of Alberta.

The roar of artillery, in salute of the personal representative of His Majesty King George V, fired by the 92nd Battery, Canadian Artillery, as the Lieutenant-Governor was accorded the honors of his vice-regal status, the uniforms of the men-at-arms who formed the escort to the Parliament buildings, and the throngs of smartly gowned women and uniformed and decorated men, drew large crowds of spectators outside the buildings.

In the Legislative Chamber a panoramic view of many who represent the ruling forces of this province in its varied divisions, and the most prominent of those in social life, was spread before the crowded public galleries.

Here indeed was a highly colorful public ceremony, and one which hundreds of citizens from many parts of the province came in respectful, dignified mood. On the floor of the legislative chamber the deep-toned red chairs against the rich crimson rugs and heavy blue hangings, were occupied by men and women of importance, and their wives and husbands.

In his official gold braided uniform with plumed hat His Honor the Lieutenant Governor entered with Mrs. Walsh, the latter very graceful in a gown of black taffeta with a coat of the same material, and a black finely woven, straw hat with a green velvet ribbon the only touch of color. She wore pearls and creamy gloves.

Beside her sat Mrs. R. G. Reid, wife of the Premier of Alberta, in a tailored gown of black with touches of white at the throat, repeated in the motif on her black hat. With them, as well, was Mrs. Spry, wife of Brigadier Spry of Calgary, lately of Ottawa, who was in Mulberry velvet.

Behind them sat the wives of the cabinet ministers, and of the members of various parties in the house. On either side, and in the Speaker's Gallery, were foreign consuls, members of the judiciary, the ecclesiastical hierarchy, civic officials, militia and educational heads and citizens of prominence.

Catching every eye was the beautiful wreath that marked the vacant place of the late C. Lionel Gibbs, one of many tributes that went forth during the afternoon.

Outstanding in the ranks, as always, of the government, was the Honorable Irene Parlby, of Alix, Minister Without Portfolio, very charming in her deep wine toned tailored gown with a cream toned folded collar.

MANY WOMEN ATTEND

It was interesting to notice the large number of women in attendance, many of them leaders of clubs and organizations prominent in the professional, social and educational life of the city. More than a passing interest was taken in the function, giving every indication that feminine voices will be heard persistently by the law makers this session.

Wives of new cabinet ministers since the last session were welcomed by government ranks, and included Mrs. Hugh Allen, who was smartly frocked in a gray and rose ensemble, Mrs. Grisdale, in a figured gown and black hat, and Mrs. J. Russell Love, who wore deep brown with touches of gold.

Receptions following the opening added greatly to the charm and interest of the affair.

Birthday Of Dickens Celebrated

Drawn together by a great heart whose beating is heard down the centuries, 80 members of the Edmonton Branch of the Dickens' Fellowship took part in a world-circling celebration of the birthday of the famous writer, Charles Dickens, when they met for dinner in the Y.W.C.A. Thursday evening.

"When you pick up a volume of Charles Dickens, he sits down by your side," said Mr. Robert Muir, when he turned the force of his delightful Scottish enthusiasm, appreciation and wit on this most English of geniuses. Warmth and humanness he marked as the outstanding characteristics of this other great writer to whom universal tribute is paid annually. Mr. Muir could not resist reference to the great Scottish poet, Rabbie Burns, and although there is only one Scot in the pages of Dickens, those did not deter the speaker from bringing his own posy to rest with the many wreaths laid at the feet of Dickens this night.

Sir James Barrie was another writer who had that warmth characteristic of Dickens, and the speaker pointed out that this great modern is vice-president of the Dickens Fellowship.

A Scottish slant on Dickens, as given by Mr. Muir, was a new experience to the Fellowship, and the tales of the writer's popularity in Scotland and his friends and interests there were given. Points of striking resemblance between Burns and Dickens were given as greatness of heart, the common touch, a robust joy in living, and championship of the oppressed and hatred of tyrants. Both geniuses interpreted their countries, yet their gospel of good-will and brotherhood is international. Sweeping away the cobwebs of an old system, one of the truly great reformers of all times, Charles Dickens pointed to the modern world the road along which it should travel.

REPLY IS WITTY

Mr. Val D. N y replied to the address to the Immortal Memory in his characteristically humorous way, voicing his delight in hearing Dickens extolled through the thick Scottish accent of the speaker, proving only too clearly that Dickens conquered all worlds and tongues, and made brothers of all nations.

Mr. H. R. Leaver, the president, in introducing Mr. Muir referred to the birthday of Charles Dickens, February 7, 1812, as one of the truly great events of all times.

Miss Dorothy Blackwell expressed in music much of the beauty of old England in her singing, accompanied by Mrs. Jack Bartley. Miss Winnifred Crowther also sang delightfully, accompanied by Mrs. Pullyblank. The Fellowship expressed, through the president, good wishes to Miss Blackwell for success in her career.

A program of recordings of Dickensian characters portrayed by Bransby Williams was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. M. H. Conquest of Athabasca and Miss Maude Deverell of Lamont were special visitors and spoke of their delight in being present. Letters of greeting were read by the secretary from Vancouver, Winnipeg, Montreal, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia. Notice was given of the next meeting February 19, when High School students will debate. Mrs. F. Rayner, Mrs. H. R. Warner and Mrs. J. P. Johnston were appointed representatives to the Provincial Red Cross meeting.

Among those present were:

Brilliant Reception At Government House Marks Session Opening

Along snow-banked winding driveways, through aisles of pine trees and against a starry winter sky, hundreds of Albertans drove in a steady line of cars Thursday evening to Government House, to pay their respects to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Walsh on the occasion of their annual reception following the opening of the Legislature of the Province. Scarlet-coated mounties flashed lights to guide the unending cavalcade, and flickering lamps cast a warm glow over wide stretching snows and the distant valley of the Saskatchewan.

Here, where traders once awaited the coming of red skinned Indians with their loads of furs, men in faultless evening attire and women resplendent in gowns of every hue and glittering jewels, alighted to enter the great stone building that is the official residence of His Majesty's representative in Alberta. Music and the fragrance of great bouquets of spring blossoms drifted out through the wide doors as the smart throngs came and went, throughout the evening. Wives of the men who are in command of the judiciary, the church, the government, the militia, of educational and commercial heads and many private citizens, were very smart in the latest in evening creations. Daughters of many well-known families, in ruffly white or palely tinted frocks, wearing fresh floral corsages, were presented to His Honor and Mrs. Walsh by their parents. Along with prominent men and matrons were seen a very large number of the younger married sets, and young people generally.

Mrs. Walsh, receiving with His Honor in the rose music room, was in a very beautiful gown of shadow-beige French lace, simply designed on flowing lines, and with which she carried a kerchief in Nippon green. Her only ornaments were a long rope of pearls and a narrow diamonte girdle.

His Honor was in his official uniform, richly festooned in gold braid. Attended by Captain Dacre, Aide de Camp to His Honor, and Lieutenant Day, His Honor and Mrs. Walsh received hundreds of citizens. Dancing was enjoyed in the reception rooms and banquet hall, and supper was served downstairs in the lower banquet room.

Velvets in all tones, finely cut or made in simple, dignified lines, chiffons in the palest of flowery designs, shimmering satins cut low and with attractively designed bodice effects, ruffles and frills for the younger generation, and georgettes softly moulded, taffetas bouffant style and moires in rich tones were seen on every hand. Black, in many cases with touches of white, or figured or designed in white, was favored by matrons, and white was the choice, in large degree, of the debutantes.

Those who had the honor to be invited were:

The following were invited: The Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., M.P.; His Grace The Archbishop of Edmonton; The Right Revd. Bishop of Calgary and Mrs. Sherman; The Right Revd. To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist one ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing, rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Love Apple Cake For Valentine Party, Matches Color Scheme

By MARY E. DAGUE

Love apple cake is my nomination for your Valentine party dessert. Isn't it a wonderful name? And it will set your color scheme —red and white, of course.

Your main course might be creamed sweetbreads in heart-shaped timbale shells with beets cut with a tiny heart cutter after boiling. Reheat and serve beets in orange sauce. For a salad choose bleached California asparagus, cook it until tender but not broken, chill thoroughly and serve in a ring of pimento with French dressing. Or let canned pears drained from juice stand in grenadine syrup over night to make them red. Then stuff with Roquefort cheese and nuts and serve in a lettuce cup with mayonnaise.

For dessert or with the cake, brick ice cream with red hearts in the centre will carry out the Valentine idea.

Serve the cake whole, letting each guest help herself.

Coffee and salted nuts wind up the menu. Radishes, cucumber rings, crimson jelly and cottage cheese are good for relishes.

One-half cup shortening, 1 cup powdered sugar, 3 egg whites, 2 cups cake flour, 3 teaspoons cream of tartar baking powder, 2-3 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon salt.

Cream shortening. Add sugar slowly, beating until creamy. Add unbeaten egg whites, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flavoring. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add alternately with milk to first mixture. Pour into three oiled and floured eight inch layer cake pans and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for twenty-five minutes. Put layers together with love-apple filling. Cover top and sides with seven-minute frosting and decorate with candy hearts.

LOVE-APPLE FILLING

One cup unsweetened tomato juice, grated rind 1 lemon, 2-3 cup granulated sugar, 2½ tablespoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Add grated lemon rind to tomato juice and heat. Mix and sift cornstarch and sugar and add to tomato juice, stirring vigorously to prevent lumping. Cook until mixture is thick, and clear, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and add lemon juice and butter. Cool before filling cake.

One egg white, ¾ cup granulated sugar, 3 tablespoons cold water, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar baking powder.

Put egg white, sugar and water in top of double boiler. Place over boiling water and beat with a rotary beater for seven minutes or until thick and fluffy. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Continue to beat until cool. Add baking powder and beat until thick enough to spread on cake without running.

Red hearts against white icing of the Valentine party cake set the color scheme.

What New York Is Wearing

By Helen Williams

2783

The material used for this distinctive dress is rough crepe silk, print that resembles a monotone. It is an advanced spring idea that smart women are wearing now to freshen their winter wardrobe. The original was periwinkle blue. A navy blue ruffle adorned the neck, a most pleasing combination.

Another very liked idea is black crinkly crepe silk with lingerie neck ruffle of white or pastel shade starched lace.

Almond green woolen with brown taffeta neck trim is still another lovely scheme.

Style No. 2783 is designed for sizes 14 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust.

Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39-inch material with ⅝ yard of 35-inch contrasting.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of FIFTEEN cents (15c) in coins, carefully wrapped, or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted.

Our LATEST FASHION BOOK will be sent upon receipt of FIFTEEN cents in coins. Address all mail orders to Pattern Department, Edmonton Bulletin.

Subscribers must allow 14 days for delivery.

Marriage Must Be Played Fifty - Fifty

DEAR MISS DIX—I am married to a man who is good and kind, without any bad habits, and who is a good provider. But we are unhappy with each other and quarrel over little things. He complains because I like to stay up late at night and read and sleep in the morning and he has to get his own breakfast. He has to go to work early, but I leave the things on the table at night for him to cook. Also, when bringing in wood and water he does not clean his feet properly and tracks in dirt, and when I scold him he only says: "What harm does it do?" And he leaves his shoes on the floor for me to pick up. Don't you think that he is unreasonable in these matters?

S. E. M.

Dorothy Dix

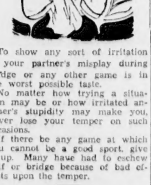

Answer:

No, I don't. I think you are making mountains out of mole hills and that if all you have to complain of in your husband is that he leaves his shoes on the floor and tracks in a little dirt when he is trying to make your work easier, you are blessed among women.

If you had a husband who beat and mistreated you or one who was a drunkard whom you had to haul in the door because he couldn't find the keyhole or if you had one who was a philanderer who kept you awake wondering what pretty young girl he was out with, then you would have a right to bewail yourself, but you have no cause to weep over a pair of shoes or a mud and snow stain on the floor.

Good Taste

By Francine Markel

To show any sort of irritation at your partner's misplay during bridge or any other game is in the worst possible taste.

No matter how trying a situation may be or how irritated another's stupidity may make you, never lose your temper on such occasions.

If there be any game at which you cannot be a good sport, give it up. Many have had to eschew golf or bridge because of bad effects upon the temper.

Tomorrow — Having Conversations With Two Persons and Extending Invitations to Only One

One housewife has a cardboard on which she has pasted tips on how to remove various stains and other laundry data. She has shellacked the whole surface and it hangs in her laundry to be right on hand when needed.

The bright orange-colored sacks which so many grocers display filled with oranges, grapefruit and onions are useful for many household duties. They are soft and absorbent when laundered and make ideal dishcloths, window cleaning and polishing cloths. Better boil the color out before you use them, however.

Also, it seems to me you are giving your husband a mighty raw deal when you won't get up and get his breakfast for him of a morning, and if he were not as patient as Job he wouldn't stand for it. If a man is willing to toil hard all day to support his wife, she might at least be willing to cook the food that he brings home.

Any woman who isn't sick—and I mean good and sick, not slightly ailing—is a quitter if she doesn't start her husband off in the morning on the right foot, with a good, hot, nourishing breakfast tucked in his stomach and the memory of a cheerful woman in a clean bungalow apron in his mind.

I appreciate your love of reading and applaud it, but why out of the 24 hours need you select the night to do it in, when it interferes with your husband's rest and keeps you from giving him his breakfast? Why don't you read in the day and sleep at night, since it will add to his comfort and your efficiency?

Evidently you are one of the women who think marriage is a graft. It isn't. Every successful marriage has to be played 50-50. Try this proportion and see if yours doesn't work out better.

DOROTHY DIX.

The Housewife's Idea Box

To Stiffen Organdie

Organdie requires something to give it body after it is washed if it is to look anything like new, unless it is the kind that always retains its body. To stiffen it, add a tablespoonful of sugar to each gallon of water used for rinsing. This will give it just the right body without making it too stiff.

What's What

Question — We expect to go to Europe this month and to visit Palestine. What is the least we could take for the voyage across the Atlantic, the Mediterranean trip and a brief sojourn at various points en route?

MR. and MRS. D.

Answer — For a trans-Atlantic voyage in February, Mrs. D. will need warm clothing, including silk-and-wool hosiery, a sweater, a tweed or knit frock, with a long coat and felt hat for deck wear. If the coat is of fur, it may be used for evenings, also. A formal evening gown may serve for a bridge or dinner gown with the addition of a little jacket.

At least two summer-weight frocks and half a dozen pairs of silk stockings will be indispensable on the Mediterranean, and at various stop-over points. A linen helmet and dark glasses, purchasable at disembarkation, help to protect the eyes from the desert glare.

Mr. D. wears a winter suit and overcoat when going aboard and provides a summer-weight outfit for the Egyptian visit. A Tuxedo suit serves for evening wear aboard ship and on land. When they reach a warmer latitude, Mr. and Mrs. D. may pack their winter clothing in a steamer trunk, which is left aboard ship. A suitcase for each will hold all necessities until they return to the boat.

Minute Make-Ups

By V. V.

The newest evening coiffure tends toward the high line made with curls at the crest of the head. This may be emphasized with one long comb or two curved ones extending from the nape of the neck in the back to the forehead in front.

A BEDTIME STORY

Story by HAL. COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

The mule soon wore poor Scouty out. The Tinies heard the youngster shout: "Hey, grab this crazy fellow, or he'll throw me through the air.

"I've stuck with him a long, long time. Now off of him I want to climb. I'll bet nobody else will ride him. Gee, you wouldn't dare!"

"Oh, wouldn't I?" yelled Coppy. "Say! To me that would be as much play. Come on, bunch, grab the fellow, and we'll try to make him stop."

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

his might, and promptly the old mule stood still. "I'm off, now," Scouty cried.

"Hop on him, Coppy! Go ahead!" But Coppy stood and shook his head. "I think I've changed my mind," said he. "I do not care to ride."

Just then they heard a dinner bell, which made the kind old farmer yell, "Come on, some food is ready. My good wife's prepared a meal.

"I'll seize his neck and hold on tight. I only hope he doesn't bite. If Scouty is real clever, to the ground he then can drop."

The farmer yelled. "Now, hold on, tots. You see, I have had lots and lots of very good experience at holding that old mule.

"He knows that he gets food from me, so he's obedient as can be. When I tell him to stand real still, he does it, as a rule."

The farmer then proved he was right. He shouted, "Whoa," with all (The farmer's dog plays a joke on Dancy in the next story.)

"We're going to have fine chicken, too, and there's lots for all of you. If you tote like home cooking, you will find that this is real."

My, what a scramble! All the bunch joined in a race, to get to lunch. They found seats at a table and the farmer's wife walked in.

"Now, eat all that you can," she said. "That's what I always like to see." Gee, you don't need to worry," answered Windy, with a grin.

CANADA GETS DEPUTY SEAT AT GENEVA

OTTAWA, Feb. 8—Canada and Belgium removed from the governing body of the International Labor Organization at Geneva on Jan. 31, last, were unanimously accorded seats as deputy members until 1937, Minister of Labor W. A. Gordon told the House of Commons yesterday.

While the situation had apparently been accepted it was made plain in the minister's statement that the constitutionality of the move was considered questionable by the Canadian government which was considering the advisability of requesting that steps be taken to clarify and establish a fixed regulation of the procedure and times for such revision of the governing body.

Canada and Belgium made way respectively for Russia and United States on the governing body.

"This solution of a difficult question," the Minister said, "has the great merit of securing the close co-operation and responsibility of the United States in the work of an organization with which Canada has been associated from the beginning, and to which it is the policy of this government to give unwavering support.

Montreal Faces Heavy Deficit

MONTREAL, Feb. 8—Montreal faces a deficit for the year 1933-34 of $8,277,235, according to budget figures announced yesterday by Ald. J. M. Savignac, chairman of the executive committee which tentatively approved expenditures of $50,327,442 with an estimated revenue of $42,050,207.

Official Rat Catching Cat On Vacation

WINNIPEG, Feb. 8—Has anybody seen our cat? This strange hue and cry was set up a few days ago from the Port Arthur freight shed of the Canadian National Railways. One of the members of the official rat catching staff was missing. Sugar was being loaded that day for Winnipeg and all the cats had turned up but one. Peter was absent.

Peter's absence meant a great blow to the rat catching staff and no doubt brought joy to the ranks of the rodents. Finally one of the clerks decided there was a chance that Peter was in the car of sugar. Word was sent to Winnipeg and on the arrival of the car it was opened, and out popped Peter.

Over four hundred miles in a freight car and no rats to catch, Peter was both cold and hungry on arrival. He was taken in charge and tonight returned to Port Arthur where he will no doubt be quite content to resume his rat catching and confine his travelling to the floor of the freight sheds.

Capitol Saturday Kiddies' Show

For the benefit of the boys and girls of city and district the Capitol theatre will put on a very special showing of "Imitation of Life," the family picture starring Claudette Colbert. The show will start sharp at 10.15 and finish at 12.15, immediately after Manager Wilson has given away many nice lucky prizes and 100 boxes of colored crayons.

In connection with the picture the Quaker Oat company is giving $9.000 in cash prizes for the best colored picture of Claudette Colbert. Full details will be given from the stage on Saturday morning and entry forms may be secured at this show. In addition to the $9.000 cash prizes the Capitol is to present a silver cup and other valuable prize to the local winners. Watch Saturday's paper for further particulars.

AMUSEMENTS

EMPRESS

A fantasy of comedy, drama and pathos, with the quaint charm of a fair story and the gripping realism of a background of war-ravaged Russia during the days of the revolution, Ben Hecht's and Charles MacArthur's "Once in a Blue Moon" came to the Empress theatre, yesterday, to introduce Jimmy Savo, ace comedian of the stage, to filmgoers.

Savo is the man film audiences have sought ever since the disappearance of Chaplin from the screen. Your only regret, when you see him, is that he delayed his screen debut for so long a time. With the same eloquent but highly individual gift for pantomine that distinguished Chaplin's acting, Savo goes even further than that great comedian with his dancing and song interpretations.

Hecht and MacArthur, master story-tellers of the screen, have brought into play all of the resources of their art in this picture woven about the pathetic tale of Gabbo the Great, an itinerant player in the last days of the Czarist regime.

The other picture on the Empress double feature program is "Father Brown Detective" with Walter Connolly, Paul Lukas and Gertrude Michael.

STRAND

Found—a brand-new mystery plot.

Such a novelty seems almost impossible, in view of the hundreds of thousands of detective stories that have been written in recent years, yet Producer John Stone and Director Lew Seiler, responsible for "Charlie Chan In Paris," at the Strand theatre, state that they have just such a plot in their picture.

Philip MacDonald, who wrote the story as the seventh in the "Chan" series of mystery romances, seemingly has evolved a completely new twist for the adventures of the famous Chinese detective.

Warner Oland, Mary Brian, Thomas Beck, Erik Rhodes, John Miljan, John Qualen, Murray Kinnell, Keye Luke and Minor Watson are in the cast.

Sara Levine and her Melody Maids introduces her stage band to Edmontonians three times daily.

OTTAWA TRADE PACTS DEFENCE IN COMMONS

OTTAWA, Feb. 8—Hon. Robert Weir, minister of agriculture, continued debate on the Ottawa trade agreements last night in the House of Commons. He answered the arguments of the Liberals the government was usurping powers of parliament. He charged Liberal Leader Mackenzie King with having gone the length of changing treaties without authority or sanction of parliament.

The agricultural minister closed his speech with saying the debate would show where the Liberal leader stood regarding the treaties. Mr. King's speech was a "cross-word puzzle" filled with qualifying phrases and still the country did not know where he stood.

George McPhee, (Lib. Yorkton) said the agricultural industry of Canada never sank to such low levels as since the Bennett government came into office. He told of a farmer in his riding who shipped 26 cattle and 20 hogs to the Winnipeg market in Nov., 1934. After paying all charges, he received $380 for 46 animals.

Mr. McPhee said the six-cent preference for wheat was not increasing Canada's sales in the United Kingdom market. In 1934 Canada's wheat sales were 25,000,000 bushels less than in 1933. In addition, Canadian prices slipped from $1.10 in 1930 to 60 cents today where it is pegged to stop it from going lower.

No New Credit: No School Payroll

BLIND RIVER, Ont., Feb. 8—This town's school and municipal salaries for January remained unpaid yesterday, following refusal of the Royal Bank of Canada to extend credit. A trip to Toronto by Mayor Isadore Provencher failed to bring any credit extension.

SCHOOL CURRICULUM DEFENDED BY HON. P. E. BAKER

Education Chief Addresses Meet School Trustees

Replies to Critics, Says the Trouble With System Lies Elsewhere — University Registrar Heard.

"The main value of education today is just what it has always been," said Hon. Perren E. Baker, minister of education, in an address to delegates at the Alberta School Trustees' Association convention during the Thursday afternoon session held in Masonic Temple.

Stating that critics of the present school system invariably said, "The trouble is that the school doesn't teach the right thing," Mr. Baker said that nearly all deficiencies were blamed on the curriculum.

"It is not practical in small schools to offer too wide a range of subjects owing to the lack of money," said the speaker. "We should keep in mind that the aim of the small school is to provide a course that will prove the most useful and practical."

MORE UNIFORM COURSE

A more uniform course up to Grade 10 was advocated by the speaker, who stated that from there the student should take a straight road to the University.

In conclusion the speaker stated that the department fully realized the desirability of making the curriculum meet the needs of the average boy and girl not going to University.

"About 60 per cent of the wealth returned to the province is from which make it impossible for the school system to get any of it," said A. E. Ottewell, University registrar, addressing the urban section on "Unexplored Sources of School Revenue."

It was not, stated the speaker, just a question of authorizing courses, nor was it true that the department refused to recognize the needs of the student.

80 EDUCATION UNITS

"There is only the student wishing to graduate from high school 85 different units from which he may choose," said Mr. Baker. It takes twenty 21 units for a student to pass while there still remains another four prescribed units making in all a total of 89 units.

"There is no need to cry out about the curriculum, like they do in cities elsewhere," said the speaker. "The courses are not rigid because the department forces the curriculum on the school board."

The school board, stated Mr. Baker, was entirely at liberty to pick out any special subjects that it thought the student should have.

"I believe that we are rapidly coming to the point when we can no longer continue to run the school system on the present basis," said Mr. Ottewell.

ALTERNATE SYSTEMS

Two ways in which it would be possible to moderate the present expense, stated Mr. Ottewell, would be first, to charge fees for all high school work, and secondly, fees for repeaters or "seat warmers". It was necessary, said the speaker, to focus public attention on the fact that unless a high school student made a certain number of units in each grade there should be a charge of "unit fees."

"Why should taxpayers pay 'lounging fees' for such as these," said Mr. Ottewell, who stated that he by no means supported the suggestion that all students should be so charged, but would at all times advocate tuition scholarships.

"Sound social investment people should not be held back, and any pupil with honor standing should be exempted from fees," said the speaker.

INCOME TAX ATTACK

Speaking of taxation, the speaker stated that this time was long overdue for a real drive on income tax and a more equitable distribution.

"The present system of income tax collection is wasteful and ridiculous," said Mr. Ottewell, who stated that school departments were at their wit's ends to expand the educational program and to raise the money to meet the demands.

Resolutions passed during the afternoon were one to the effect that the words "and August" should be struck out where they appear in paragraph "b" of section 157 of the School act and a second resolution that the department be asked to pay all grants according to the number of legally authorized teaching days, i.e., for 200 days also days the teacher is on sick leave.

A discussion of Alberta experiments in rural school organization was led by E. A. Thurber, Hanna, and D. M. Sullivan, Camrose.

BERRY CREEK REPORT

A description of the progress made by the consolidation of the school, and the surprising advantages obtained by this recent move was given by Mr. Thurber, who is official trustee of Berry Creek school district, a district in which 2000 miles of school areas have been consolidated.

Only a few of the improvements, stated Mr. Thurber, had been a remarkable reduction in operative costs, a lower cost for supplies, in addition to a fair raise in salary for the teachers which, he stated, averaged $750 per annum.

The question of a similar scheme now being tried out in the Turner Valley district was given by Mr. Sullivan.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Members elected to the executive board during the afternoon were: Mrs. W. G. York, Parkland; C. E. Haynes, Parkland; A. E. Ottewell, Edmonton; W. A. Church, Medicine Hat; F. E. Spooner, Calgary; H. W. Chapell, Jr., Blairmore; Mrs. E. Morton, Vegreville, and Dr. J. Lovering, Lethbridge. Members of the separate school board elected to the executive board were: O. V. Burgard, Calgary, and C. Lessard, Deer Park S. D., Grassy Lake. L. Maynard was elected rural representative.

TRUSTEES ASK EDUCATION AID

A resolution that the Alberta School Trustees' Association strongly urge upon the Provincial government the necessity of setting aside for school purposes a substantial portion of the revenues derived by it from the mine, petroleum and other natural resources of the province was unanimously passed by the rural section of the convention at the Friday morning session held in the Masonic Temple.

"When the next advance in education is made in the Dominion it will be made in Alberta," said G. F. McNally, supervisor of schools during an address, "Towards a better High School Education."

A resolution that the Association form a standing committee to cooperate with the Department in presenting recommendations was carried.

It was also resolved that rural schools be obliged to pay tuition fees to secondary schools for not more than four years for each student attending a secondary school.

Other resolutions passed were: that no person be eligible to vote at a school election other than a British subject; that the Association be asked to allow the business of the meeting to proceed after nominations have closed; that the Association request the government and the Department of Health to provide through the travelling clinics for medical services to rural children at least twice a year, the medical services to include inspection of tonsils, adenoids, d optical or dental attention, and that the Association urge the government legislation to enable a school district to dispose of its arrears in any way the said district so desires.

An address "Culture on the plains before the white man came," was given in the Dunbar section by the Rev. Brother Memoriam.

Outlines Value Of Canadian Literature

Canadian citizens should make a temporary sacrifice and see that a Canadian publisher an opportunity to compete with foreign publications, N. C. Wilson, South Edmonton, declared, said in an address at a Lions' Club luncheon held in the King Edward cafe Thursday. Mr. Wilson spoke on Canadian literature and its value in building a sense of Canadianism.

Canada undoubtedly has a great many writers of literature, both current and permanent. Mr. Wilson said, but there is great lack of knowledge and appreciation of their work.

Giant Plane For North Fish Flying

Above is pictured the all-metal tri-motor Ford of the United Air Transport, Limited, of this city, which Pilot Grant McConachie took north on Friday to fly fresh fish from Buffalo Lake, Sasketchewan, to Cheecham, Alberta, on the Northern Alberta Railways.

The giant plane, which has a capacity load of more than 3,500 pounds, will make from four to five trips daily with fish. On each return journey to the lake the machine will carry freight and supplies.

Thursday the plane was equipped with specially constructed skiis and put through a test flight by Pilot McConachie under the watchful eye of Howard Ingram, inspector of civil aviation, who placed his okay on the charter.

McConachie brought the machine to the city from eastern Canada over a month ago to augment the United Air Transport's fleet of planes now flying over the fish route.

Mechanicc Bill Busby and Chris Green went north with McConachie.

Pilot McConachie is also pictured in the above layout, while the big Ford machine can be seen in flight. The latter picture was taken over the airport Thursday from a plane piloted by Stan McMillan, Mackenzie Air Service.

Gleaned From Today's News

E. C. Long, K.C., well-known corporation lawyer of Toronto, will represent the Edmonton Sinking Fund Board at the meeting of Vancouver bondholders in that city on February 11. Mayor G. D. McGeer, of the coast city, plans to lay before creditors his proposal to cut bond interest rates 50 per cent. Edmonton holds $331,000 of Vancouver's debentures.

H. S. Reynolds, finger print expert of the city police department, will address the Oliver Community League at its regular monthly meeting a Patricia hall on Monday evening. Mr. Reynolds has already spoken to several of the service clubs and other organizations in the city. The League executive anticipates that all members and their friends will make a point of being present.

Annual Meeting Of Red Cross Society

Reduction in the Society's deficit from $4.019 on December 31, 1933, to $956 on September 30, 1934, will be reported at the annual meeting of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society in the school board offices, Civic Block, at 7:30 p.m., Friday. President Norman Hindsley, M.L.A., will occupy the chair.

Election of officers for the ensuing year and presentation of the various committee reports will be other important items on the agenda.

For the nine-month period ending September 30, 1934, revenue of the Society from all sources totaled $28,057.27 and expenditure, $24,096.68, excess of revenue over expenditure being $3,191.19.

Police Court

Walter R. McGinnis, ex-manager of the Red Deer hockey team, who worked a new racket for $35 on local hotels, was sentenced to two months at hard labor on two false pretence counts, one theft and obtaining lodging by fraud, when he pleaded guilty to all charges before Magistrate Col. P. C. H. Primrose in city police court Friday morning.

Posing as the hockey manager he got accommodation and cash at hotels along with O.K.'s for his taxi bills and food at cafes, by phoning those places under the guise of the Red Deer hockey team's financial agent and asking for Mr. McGinnis.

When informed that "Mr. McGinnis" was not in the house, McGinnis would announce himself as the holder of the team's purse strings and inform the management to fix Mr. McGinnis with anything he wanted.

J. Fair, was committed to the Supreme Court for trial on two charges of shop breaking at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing Friday.

Evidence was heard that he was captured one night last week under city's suspicions.

After being routed out of his hiding place under a bench in the service station next to the police station, Fair told officers he had "been there all night drinking beer with the proprietor."

His hand was cut, allegedly on the glass broken out of the office window, and the safe had been tampered with. Other things which did not help Fair's case, was the presence of the cash register on the service station floor and a can of paint stolen from the premises, corresponding in color to paint stains on his coat. The second committal came on a count of breaking into the Imperial service station corner of 99 street and Jasper avenue.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Liberals of the Peace River federal riding may persuade G. G. McGeer, K.C., mayor of Vancouver, member of the B.C. legislature and widely known crusader for monetary reform, to accept a nomination as candidate from that area to the Dominion parliament.

Do you believe this would be in the best interests of the Peace River constituency or any other Alberta riding? The Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter asked.

Below are opinions:

ED. C. FISHER, farmer: "I think it would be an asset to any constituency in Canada to have Mr. McGeer as its representative in the Ottawa house. Mr. McGeer has rendered a great service in exposing the financial racketeers and his known ability would make him a benefit to any riding."

* * *

G. H. VAN ALLEN, K.C. barrister: "I believe the people in the Peace River would be fortunate indeed to obtain the services of a man like Mr. McGeer as their representative."

JOHN HART, barrister: "I believe a man should represent the constituency in which he has his home. I don't think much of politicians gallivanting all over the country to run in just any riding, and I do not think it is of any benefit to the constituency. I believe the Peace River or any other section would be best served if it was represented in parliament by one of its own men."

E. E. HOWARD, engineer: "I favor the idea. It would be an inspiration to the Liberals of Alberta to have a man of Mr. McGeer's type representing one of our ridings."

For those who wish to study first aid, a class will be held at the St. John Ambulance headquarters, 96 street, at 8 p.m. Friday (tonight). A class for ladies will be held on Monday evening.

J. A. Buchanan, Conservative organizer, returned Thursday afternoon from a trip to Peace River, where he conferred with members of the Conservative executive there.

ARCTIC MAIL FLOWN SOUTH

The second Arctic air mail of the winter was landed in Fort McMurray on Thursday by Walter Gilbert, senior pilot of Canadian Airways in the northland. In addition to the mail, R. W. Hale, Edmonton district postal superintendent, was a passenger. Superintendent Hale made a postal inspection trip as far north as Aklavik. The mail will arrive in the city on the weekly Northern Alberta railways train from the end-of-steel at Waterways.

Other movements of planes reported Friday were: W. R. "Wop" May, O.B.E., at Hay River on his way south to Fort Simpson; Archie McMullen out of Fort McMurray to the mines at Great Bear Lake, and Leigh, southbound for Edmonton airport from McMurray.

WOULD HAVE HOMESTEADERS GIVEN CHANCE

J. M. Dechene, M.L.A., Urges Revision of Present Regulations

Amendment of the homestead laws and regulations so as to provide for the working out of all taxes assessed against the land, except education taxes, for at least the first three years of occupation is urged in a resolution placed on the legislative order paper by Joseph M. Dechene, Liberal, St. Paul.

Mr. Dechene also urges that the portion of the filing fee to be paid in cash should be of an amount sufficient only to meet the cost of administration, the balance of the amount so charged or assessed to be met before patent is issued to be spent in roadwork in the locality. He also urges that the homesteader should be assisted by being provided with labor in the construction of roads, bridges and other necessary features in these areas where homestead settlement has been obtained and in the area where it will obtain in the future.

SHOULD ASSIST SETTLER

The government, he contends, should have a definite contributory plan to assist the settler in developing and in remaining on the land.

Mr. Dechene further contends that the policy of the government of the day, since the transfer of the natural resources to the province, with regard to settlement of public lands and through the regulations regarding to homesteads, has been such as to work to the detriment of the people settling on the land, rather than to their advantage. He also charges that on account of the largely increased entry fees, added to the taxes assessed in the units where the homestead lands are situated, it has proved impossible for the new settlers to establish themselves and make a livelihood there. Conditions in the case of a large number of these settlers who came from the dry areas of the province are very little or without any funds available at all. Remunerative labor, he states, is not now available for that class of people to establish a home.

ALSO ROAD WORK

"Failure of the government to devote any part of the millions of dollars of monies collected from the people of this province to the construction of local roads and the improvement of trails in the homestead areas, thereby compelling the settlers to live and operate under extreme adverse conditions has rendered their situation practically hopeless," declared Mr. Dechene.

Continuing, Mr. Dechene states that it is generally recognized that a large number of the unemployed can only be re-absorbed into useful, self-sustaining occupation by being placed on the land under proper regulations and assistance." He also claims that the government "has entirely neglected the ordinary assistance which should obtain in any policy of land settlement."

Noted Flier To Support Scout Drive

In support of the Boy Scout campaign which starts on the Chief Scout's birthday, February 22, C. H. (Punch) Dickins will speak over radio station CJCA from 9:15 to 9:30 p.m. Friday, February 8th.

He will emphasize the value of Scout training for boys, especially as it prepares them for life in making them self-reliant and capable of taking care of themselves under all conditions.

"Punch" was one of the first Scouts in Edmonton and was trained under Bishop Gray. He is justly proud of his former connection with the Scout movement and the Scout movement is proud to have him on their rolls. He has recently brought additional honor to Alberta and the Boy Scouts movement in being made a member of the Order of the British Empire. Boys all over Northern Alberta will be listening in to "Punch". He is the type of hero the boys should admire and emulate.

WEATHER WILL CONTINUE FAIR

Bright sunshine and mild temperature prevails in Edmonton, with a forecast for continued fair weather.

Although most northern points reported comparatively mild readings this morning, Aklavik, at the mouth of the Mackenzie, showed a slide to 14 below.

Yesterday's temperature was 28 above, lowest today, 9 above at 4 a.m. From 5 to 8 a.m. mercury in the thermometer was steady at 11 above, dropping to 10 at 9 a.m. The morning barometer readings was 27.71 up.

PUBLIC OWNED BANK ASKED BY LIBERALS

Will Get Opinion of Legislature on Structure of Bank of Canada

That the Bank of Canada be publicly owned and controlled is the subject of a resolution placed on the legislative order paper by W. Harry Ross, Liberal, Calgary, and which is expected to be debated in the near future.

Mr. Ross, who has been one of the most steadfast and staunch advocates of public bank ownership in the house, urges that the bank shall issue national currency and credit and manage the monetary system in terms of public need. The primary purpose of the bank, he urges, is to serve the requirements of domestic, social and industrial requirements of the Canadian people. Also it would provide purchasing power, the raising of the standard of living of the people and the stability of business and economic conditions within the nation.

Mr. Ross urges also that the bank be charged with the duty of dealing with the problems of international exchange and that the gold reserve shall be held and used for that purpose and not as a basis for the issue of domestic currency and credit. He also advocates that national credit be used, under proper measures of public control, to serve the needs of the people.

Mackenzie Air Service reported Pilot H. M. Kennedy southbound to Edmonton airport Friday from Fort Chipewyan and McMurray. He has just completed a trip into the lower Peace River country, where he rushed aid to an Indian tribe suffering from scurvy as a result of improper diet. Pilot Harry Hayter, who arrived Thursday with four passengers from the northland, is scheduled to leave Edmonton for the north Saturday, and Pilot Stan MacMillan will also be taking a ship north at the same time.

WOULD PROBE METHODS OF GRAIN ASSN.

Investigation of the records of the North-West Grain Dealers' Association in connection with their method and regulations pertaining to the fixing and maintaining of grain prices and the spreads thereof by members of the association is strongly advocated by Joseph M. Dechene, Liberal, St. Paul, in a resolution placed on the legislative order paper. He also urges that the provincial agricultural department lend its support and authority to correction of abuses.

"Movement of the wheat crop during the last number of years saw an unreasonable spread in prices between certain grades of wheat," declares Mr. Dechene "and also between the prices paid for street as compared with track and spot and which conditions became greatly aggravated during the movement of the 1934 crop. This spread at certain periods reached a very large amount and caused an enormous loss to the farming industry of this province when it could not afford it."

BOARD DENIES POWER

Mr. Dechene further contends that in reply to a complaint of the Vegreville Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Grain Commissioners as presently constituted, declared that the Board has no power to investigate or to influence the prices and the spreads in the trade as arranged by the North West Grain Dealers' Association. Daily quotations appearing in the press, he says, show that there is a larger spread between the several grades of wheat at local points in the province as compared with the spread between the same grades at Winnipeg and claims "there is such dissatisfaction in the matter of grading of wheat at local points due to the fact that it would appear that wheat grading No. 2 in a certain year may be graded 3 or 4 in another year and the government of Alberta is expending a large amount of money each year in order to maintain the agricultural department which does not appear to have taken any interest in demanding a correction of these abuses."

WILL SUBJECT FINANCES TO RIGID PROBE

Liberal Members Plan Searching Scrutiny of Records

Government financing will be subjected to rigid and searching scrutiny during the present session, according to Hugh J. Montgomery, Liberal, Wetaskiwin, who has filed with the clerk of the legislative assembly a return asking how many bonds and treasury bills were refunded or redeemed during the year 1934; how many were sold; which issues were exempt from municipal and provincial taxation and succession duties; what bond issues include recallable provisions, and the particulars in connection therewith; firms negotiating sales and total commission or brokerage paid to each.

Further scrutiny of financing is being undertaken by Frank R. Falconer, Liberal, Athabasca, who is filing a return asking for all special warrants issued between April 1, 1934, and Feb. 8, 1935, showing the date of issue of the warrant; full particulars; reason for issuance; amount authorized and amount expended.

COST OF RELIEF

Joseph M. Dechene, Liberal, St. Paul, has asked for information giving the total cost of relief in many specified municipalities in 1931-1934, inclusive.

Mr. Dechene has also filed questions seeking the number of homestead and soldier grant entries from May, 1931, to December, 1934, in several specified townships.

J. J. Bowlen, Liberal, Calgary, is probing the livestock situation and is seeking information on the total number of cattle purchased by the government in the drought areas or in any part of the province during 1934. He also wants to know how many men were employed by the government in purchase of cattle and many other phases of the industry.

SET OF QUESTIONS

Mr. Dechene has filed a set of questions with the government in which he desires to know if it is the intention of the government to carry on road construction during the present season on the 4th meridian line between Alberta and Saskatchewan and whether the government has been approached during the last six months by the Saskatchewan government with a view to contributing to or sharing in the construction of such road.

Also he wants to know if the government, in the last six months has been petitioned or requested or asked for such road work by the settlers living in the district adjacent to the same or by any other person or persons or organized bodies on their behalf.

In addition, Mr. Dechene is anxious to know if the government has given any promise of road construction or has authorized the inducing or advising of settlers in the mentioned region to petition for such road construction or to promise support should said construction be asked for.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8—I would caution you against concluding that the current phase of decline has terminated just because the market yesterday staged a mild rally when all signs pointed to further decline. The price movement of the session as far as I am concerned meant absolutely nothing as an indication of what is to come. It is well within the realm of reason that comparative firmness will prevail early in today's session. The firmness, however, I doubt very much will be of any more general character than was yesterday's firmness.

Although there was a moderate rally yesterday there were plenty of stocks that did not participate in it. In fact, they performed in a manner that was decidedly unfavorable. I doubt very much if the market, as measured by the industrial averages, will be able to rally more than a half point more before it again encounters offerings and turns down. Believe you will find before today's session progresses much that the curtailment of the short interest in the market has severely impaired its technical strength. Virtually every stock that rallied yesterday is known to harbor considerable of a short interest. It was particularly noticeable that those issues reported as not harboring short interests acted in a decidedly sluggish manner. A number of comparatively good performers in recent market sessions yesterday were noticeably poor performers. Keep away from the long side—it is no time to buy stocks

GIRL INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE ON JASPER AVE.

Pitched six feet into the air to land headfirst on the street railway tracks when she was struck by a car near the intersection of Jasper and 106 street, Miss Charlotte Black of 11141 90 avenue was rushed to the General Hospital with severe head injuries, shortly before 5.00 p.m. Thursday.

S. Martin of Hardisty, driver of the car, reported to police that he had no chance to avoid striking the woman as she stepped suddenly into the immediate path of his car. The impact threw her up over the engine hood and against the windshield, from where she pitched on her head to the car tracks.

George LaRue of 11660 Jasper avenue and Gordon Reid, took the woman to a nearby cafe to wait the arrival of medical aid. LaRue called both police and the ambulance.

Exact extent of Miss Black's injuries were not immediately determined, but reports from the General hospital Thursday night was that her condition was "as good as could be expected."

Constables Ed. Kenny and Ernie Foster are investigating.

Broomhall

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—The winter wheat condition in Europe is a little improved. Snow protection exists in Rumania and in other parts of the Danube basin. Mild weather in France has stimulated growth and so long as severe cold weather does not develop the new wheat crop will do well, although there are a superabundance of weeds in some localities.

The Russian winter wheat acreage is officially reported to be nearly 2,000,000 acres greater than a year ago, but rye is smaller.

The foreign demand for wheat was not very active. England reported purchases of Barusso 64-lb. Feb.-March at 20s. No. 2 Manitoba afloat Vancouver 27s 9d, and Australian end of Feb. shipment at 23s 9d. Argentine farmers are withholding offers owing to the unsatisfactory prices.

EXPORT SALES BOOST WHEAT PRICE AT 'PEG

WINNIPEG, Feb. 8—Sale for export of a moderate amount of Canadian wheat, coupled with strong outside markets, lifted wheat prices on the grain exchange here today. Values closed ½ cent higher, May at 82½ and July 82¼ cents.

After two days of small-lot purchases, foreign buyers took an estimated 300,000 bushels of Canadian wheat today. This support, combined with some buying encouraged by upturns at Chicago and Liverpool, held values at higher levels most of the session.

OATS and PANS by BILL LEWIS

Another great thoroughbred joins the breeding farm show of R. James Speers . . . Cudgel, big brown son of Broomstick, 21 years of age, is now content to munch oats instead of pounding his hoofs on hard tracks to the roar of the crowd. . . . He will be shipped to Winnipeg shortly. . . . Bred at the Whitney stock farm in New York, Cudgel will head the western farm, part of Mr. Speers' plan to make the prairies racing conscious.

But the great thoroughbred is still the property of Senator Donat Raymond of Montreal. for Speers has secured him on a two-year lease. . . . Should Cudgel die before the lease expires, then the lease will be cut. . . . If he lives to 23, his period of usefulness is then practically at an end.

When Mr. Speers first invaded the prairies, westerners knew little about racing. . . . Today, Winnipeg is one of the most profitable racing centres in Canada and his operations cover three provinces. . . . His 1937 futurity has 156 nominations, stretching from coast to coast in Canada and including many well-known Ontario breeders as well as Austin C. Taylor at Vancouver.

Cudgel has as romantic a background as any of the turf blue bloods today. . . . His every owner has hesitated to part with him, the big stallion always being a stable favorite. . . . He was originally purchased by the late J. K. L. Ross and the horse stood at the Ross stable until the collapse of that fortune. . . . Some days prior to the sale in Montreal, Senator Raymond, who is also interested in hockey with Joe Cleghorn and Leo Dandurand, selected 140 acres of the Ross club, won two of the four semi-final divisions in the ladies' singles. The other two went to Doreen Clapperton, Calgary city champion, and Lolie Ellis, also of Calgary.

Gloria Ghislen of Edmonton will meet M. Main of Calgary Friday morning in the finals of the ladies' secondary singles. Calgary is certain to gain men's secondary singles honors with Bill Pentland and L. Morrison, both southerners, battling it out in the finals.

Bill Newsom and Barbara Mitchell, two Edmontonians, will battle two Calgarians, R. Pentland and E. Littlewood, respectively, in the finals of the men's and ladies' junior singles.

GUY MORTON BEATS CHAMP IN BADMINTON

Brilliant Star Victor Over Mitchell in Surprise Win

By PAUL MALONE

CALGARY, Feb. 8.—With the cream of Alberta's badminton crop in action, Edmonton players were well to the fore when the first day of the provincial Ladminton tournament concluded at Glencoe Club here Thursday evening. The meet will continue Friday and Saturday. Guy Morton, former provincial champion and now a member of the University of Alberta club, marked up the greatest upset of the day when he eliminated his team-mate, from further play in the men's singles. Morton's victory gave him a place in the semi-finals of the singles.

Harry Cooper, another U. of A. club member, also reached the fours in the singles. The other places went to D. S. Clapperton and Bob Lucy, both of Calgary.

The Morton-Mitchell battle in the men's singles quarter-finals, was the outstanding match of the day. Mitchell's tremendous power gave him the first game, 4-15. Then Morton, performing with masterful style, trick-shot himself into a 15-9 victory in the following game as the champion momentarily weakened. The deciding game was a thriller. The advantage veered from one player to the other but with the crowd confident that Mitchell's experience would decide the match in his favor. Morton swept through for the deciding point after extra serves had been called for. It was a great victory and an unexpected loss for Mitchel'l had recently bested Morton in the U. of A. tournament.

OTHER LOCALS WIN

Peggy Aitken and Barbara Jarman, last year's finalists, and both members of the U. of A. club, won two of the four semi-final divisions in the ladies' singles. The other two went to Doreen Clapperton, Calgary city champion, and Lolie Ellis, also of Calgary.

Gloria Ghislen of Edmonton will meet M. Main of Calgary Friday morning in the finals of the ladies' secondary singles. Calgary is certain to gain men's secondary singles honors with Bill Pentland and L. Morrison, both southerners, battling it out in the finals.

Decide Semi-Final Brackets Thursday In Two Primaries

City and Country Rinks Have Chance at Both Main Prizes; Jim Steele Figures in Two 13-Enders

By BILL LEWIS

An all city or all-country final may result in the Grand Challenge event of the Alberta Curling Association's eighteenth annual bonspiel due to the outcome of Wednesday's play here. Likewise, a city vs. country, or all-city final may appear in the other primary—the Bank of Montreal—as the situation now stands.

Entering the semi-finals yesterday of the Grand Challenge—Edmonton Breweries Trophy event—were Rose, of Sedgewick, and Bill Winteringham, of Royal, in the upper brackets, while Harold Deeton, of Royal, and George McLaughlin, of Tofield marched into the pair of brackets in the lower half of the draw.

In the Bank of Montreal, Harold Ritchie, of Granite, and Cliff Manahan, of Royal, will battle it out in the top half of the draw, with Si Poole, of Daysland, and Mel Strickland, of Royal, fighting for honors in the botton half.

FINE PROGRESS IN ALL EVENTS

All of the competing rinks marched through Wednesday's play in quick time, and, with jewelery stages being reached in the pair of primaries, great progress was made in all other competitions, including the Eaton, Visitors, King Edward, North West Brewing and Essery.

The day's play saw the last of the undefeated rinks suffer setbacks, with Poole, of Daysland, and Jimmy Steele, of Strathcona being the last to succumb. Poole had run up a string of seven consecutive victories before he met defeat at the hands of Rose, of Sedgewick, in the early-afternoon draw, while steele went to 13 ends before going down before the fine play of Winteringham, who won by 11-10.

George McLaughlin, of Tofield, had entered the third day's play as one of the trio of unbeaten quartets but suffered a beating at the hands of Poole on the morning draw.

IN RUNNING FOR GRAND AGGREGATE

Seven rinks stood out as candidates for Grand Aggregate honors when play finished last night. These are Ritchie, of Granite; Strickland, of Royal; Deeton, of Royal; McLaughlin, of Tofield; Winteringham, of Royal; Rose, of Sedgewick; and Poole, of Daysland. Each of these contenders has been right in the running throughout the three days of action and finished last night with a high percentage of wins over losses.

To enter the semi-final brackets of the Bank of Montreal, Ritchie defeated Bobby Munro, of Vegreville; Manahan won over Barron, of Thistle; Poole beat McLaughlin; and Strickland set back Steele.

In the eights of the Grand Challenge, leading to the semi-finals, Rose defeated Dr. Anderson, of Royal; Winteringham whipped Shore, of Edmonton; Deeton beat Byers, of Edberg; and McLaughlin triumphed over Mann, of Edmonton.

There was plenty of exceptionally fine curling to feature the day's five games with a pair of 13-enders to highlight the program.

Incidentally, Jimmy Steele figured in both of these extra-end contests and lost both. A further coincidence was that they were both by the same score, 11-10. Steele dropping the first verdict to Winteringham on the noon draw and then losing to Strickland by the same margin.

Three two games were among Thursday's outstanding performances, for Steele was faced with a pair of the stand-out quartets in the spiel in the pair of Royal entries that beat him. He gave them all the fight they wanted in each start, as is demonstrated by the final results, and each provided plenty of thrills.

Eskimos Beaten By Portland, 4-3 In Robust Game

Locals Rally in Final Period But Have Hard Luck in Game

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 8.—Portland Buckaroos moved back into second place in the Northwest pro hockey standing Thursday night when they nosed out Edmonton Eskimos, 4-3, here in a bruising game that saw frayed tempers break out into two fist fights in the final period.

Louis Couper sent the Bucs into an early lead with the only goal of the first period. Eskimos tied it up in the second when Lorne Mercer sailed down into Portland territory and passed to Bill Carse who flipped the puck past Andy Aitkenhead in the Portland goal. Bucs got back their lead late in the period with Jimmy Evans breaking through to net twice, the first on a pass from Coupez and the second unassisted.

"Peaches" Lyons counted the final Portland marker and the one that gave them the edge early in the third period on a pass from Munson.

A late period attack netted Eskimos a pair of goals just one short of tieing the score. Art Townsend and Art Gagne went through on a double passing attack that ended when Morey Rinstad finally picked up the puck to score. Townsend slipped a pass to Louis Holmes for the last score of the game.

In the final minutes of the game Ralph Blythe, Rinstad, Lyons and Steve Nickarz tangled in what promised to be a free-for-all, but were separated and drew five minutes each in the penalty box.

Juniors Feature Saturday Sports

A major hockey attraction features Saturday's sports program here when Safeway-Canadians, leaders of the Edmonton Junior Hockey League, and Saskatoon Standards clash in an exhibition game at the Arena Saturday night.

Saskatoon's game here will be their third in the province, having played two games in Calgary, losing the first and deadlocking the count in the second last night. They have, however, made an impressive showing in all of their starts and give promise of being real opponents for the local lads.

The Standards, like the Canadians here, are leaders of the Saskatoon Junior League, having an outfit every bit as powerful a team as the brilliant Wesleys, and with that reputation they invade Edmonton's hockey circles, determined they will hand the Canadians their first defeat of the season.

Eleven times the Canadians have dropped over the boards at the Arena. Eight times they have emerged the winner and on three more they divided the honors—remaining undefeated in their regular schedule of games. A ninth win to their total and a clean slate on their defeat column would look like an impressive record for the Canucks to start their play-offs. They will, it is certain, be fighting hard for that ninth victory, and there are few rabid junior fans who can honestly say those Canucks can't get out and battle.

The action starts at 9:00 o'clock and the seat sale will go on at Mike's early Saturday morning.

AMERICANS HALT RANGER TEAM

STANDARD SIX TIES CALGARY BY 2-2 SCORE

Classy Saskatoon Squad Gives Jimmies Hard Ice Battle

CALGARY, Feb. 8—With less than a minute to go and two Calgary players in the penalty box, McCallum, Saskatoon Standards defenceman, banged his own rebound past Jimmy MacQueen, Calgary Jimmies goalie, to bring his team a 2-2 tie in a junior exhibition game here Thursday night. No overtime was played.

Two referees came on the ice to handle the game, and seeming to take the extra official as a hint, the players carried their sticks high throughout. Sixteen penalties were handed out, two of them for five minutes and one a three minute stretch. Late in the second period one of the officials called the play and reminded the teams it was just an exhibition game and that nothing was at stake.

Purser caged Jimmies first goal by deflecting a pass into his own net. McCallum evened it up on a solo rush and then Cal Scott, Jimmie wingman, scored on Fitzgerald's pass.

PRO. BOXING CARD READY FOR TONIGHT

Local gyms were scenes of bristling action during the greater part of yesterday. All performers on tonight's professional boxing card were taking their daily drills and a lot of action was seen throughout the afternoon.

Johnny Blochlinger, at the "Y," topped off his training with a light workout while his opponent in the 10-round go at the Empire theatre this evening was also in action and many who saw him were assured Blochlinger meets tough opposition in Maurice Picard, of Vancouver.

Contestants on the other end of the twin main event, Sailor Goodland and Tiger Fisher also dished up plenty in the line of action during their training at the York Hotel gym and fistic fans will get action a-plenty in this bout.

In two good preliminaries, Jimmy Galler meets Les Smith in the curtain raiser, while Freddie Cruden meets Bill Nicholson in the other preliminary.

The action starts at 8:30 o'clock and we may add that the lighting system over the ring has also been greatly improved.

VARSITY TEAM BEATS LEDUC BY 7-0 SCORE

Take First Series Game In Intermediate Ice Playdowns

Three hard fighting Golden Bears from Varsity are finally out on the right foot. Last night they turned on the vaulting ambition, and whitewashed Leduc 7-0 in the first game of a home and home series in intermediate playdowns. Varsity finished at the bottom of the city senior circuit so had the privilege of entering intermediate playdowns after the first of February which they did.

It looked bad for the students early in the contest. While making a beautiful save, Maybank was smashed in the face with the puck and was taken over to the hospital. The goalie was dazed for half an hour while Tallman was called upon to take over the net minding assignment. Stepping out on the sheet without a warm up or any warning, Tallman was in no small way responsible for the great shut out game he ran up.

Varsity's defence of Talbot and Stark tore the invading Leduc forward line to shreds. Not for a moment of the torrid contest did the play get over their heads.

SCOTT GETS THREE

"Willy" Scott had a big day with the stick. He accounted for no less than three puffy tallies. Dunlop helped himself to a goal and an assist. Woywitka, Cruickshank, and Ferguson banged one apiece to complete things.

Both squads battled through 10 and a half minutes of real speedy hockey before a goal was marked up. Munroe was in the cooler, leaving Leduc a man short. Varsity put on the old power play and with green and gold sweaters swarming around the nets, Cruickshank battled one in.

Right from the start of the middle canto the winners took command of the situation. They were ragged for the first few minutes around the goal mouth, but managed to several scoring chances. When they finally did locate their firing range, Scott got a pair of direct shots into the net and Dunlop a singleton.

Leduc pressing every man into direct action during the last period, found themselves helpless to three more. Woywitka snapped one past the outstretched arms of Leduc goalie on a pass from Dunlap. Ferguson started off with three men but did not need them, for he carried the puck himself, and completed the hemp dinting contest with the seventh and final counter near the end of the contest.

LINEUPS

Varsity Golden Bears—Goal, R. Macbeath (Talbot); defence, Jack Talbot, Bill Stark, Jack Dunlap, Nick Woywitka, Bill Cruickshank, Bill Scott; Bob Cruickshank, Bob Gibson; Keith Dunlop.

Leduc—E. Woods; P. Shilbuck, P. Kowal; H. Sabo, Ed. Hetsher, J. Blades; S. Paynter, J. Seuchek, A. Kowal.

Referee—Bill Broadfoot.

First period—1, Varsity, Cruickshank, 19.50. Penalties: Scott, Munroe.

Second period—2, Varsity, Dunlop (Varsity Scott) 5:30. 3, Varsity, Scott (R. Pensette-Kowal, Stark, Shilbuck.

JUVENILE SIXES ARE ELIMINATED

Two more squads fell by the wayside in their bid for a berth in the playoff of the City Juvenile Hockey League last night when the lowly B.A.C. squad were definitely eliminated from further contention after dropping a 3-1 decision to the slow skating Glenora C.C., and Rangers put a crimp in the chances of the Bennett Buddies when they handed them a 2-1 setback.

By virtue of their wins both Glenora and Rangers are in a favorable position of capturing a berth in the playoffs. The classy Imperial club are already possessing a berth as a result of their 7-2 win over the Rangers Wednesday evening.

In the only scheduled encounter of the Midget League, Frank Ash-by's Highland A.C. improved their chances of gaining a berth in their section playoffs when they scored a 3-1 victory over the Bennett Buddies. The latter practically eliminates the Bennett club.

Although night traffic is only one-fifth that of daylight, more than half of the fatal accidents occur between dusk and dawn.

Thursday night visiting rinks were banquetted by the Drumheller fire chief.
